EXHIBITION ATTRACTS LARGE CROWDS

Thinks Canada Has Now Made Grade In Financial Affairs

E. W. Beatty, K.C., President of Canadian Pacific Railway, Makes Address at Store Opening.

E. W. Beatty, K.C., forty-five years of age, yet president of the greatest railway corporation in the world—the Canadian Pacific Railway—ended the westbound part of his official tour of Canada when he reached Victoria this morning on board a special steamer from Seattle, and made these predictions, based on what he saw and learned during his tour:

1. The present period of depression in Canada will come to an end before next Spring. There will be ups and downs after that, but the big drop will be over.
2. The Canadian West has a big wheat crop this year. The price will be good because of the world scarcity of foodstuffs. This will mean money to go into all lines of business. It will stimulate and revive the lumber industry of B. C.
3. Canada is coming through the after-war period better than any other nation. Sir Robert Kindersley, Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company, said this in London a few weeks ago. I now have reason to know that what he said is founded on fact.

New Immigration Policy.
Mr. Beatty said that Canada needs a new immigration policy. He pointed to the contrast between the population of the United States and that of Canada, two countries almost identical in natural resources for hundreds of miles along the boundary line, which started their history about the same time, yet one country has 110,000,000 of people and is the wealthiest nation in the world, while the other languishes on with less than 10,000,000.

"I've talked about it so often that there is really nothing new in it," said Mr. Beatty.
"But Canada needs immigrants and we have not been getting them. We need immigrants that can be assimilated and we need workers. We have been getting some of the wrong class. This country will go ahead at the rate it should when we adopt a broad-minded policy under the control of persons who know how to choose the proper kind of immigrants and will go out and get them."

Mr. Beatty said that Canadian business and industry will emerge on a solid foundation after the present period of readjustment. Mr. Beatty was of the opinion that while business is at present at a low ebb, firms and persons with courage have their opportunity to lay the foundation for greater participation in the prosperity that is to come, just as Carnegie and Frick and other leaders of industry in the United States laid the foundation for their fortunes through the exercise of courage and confidence in the country in the periods of depression following the Civil War.

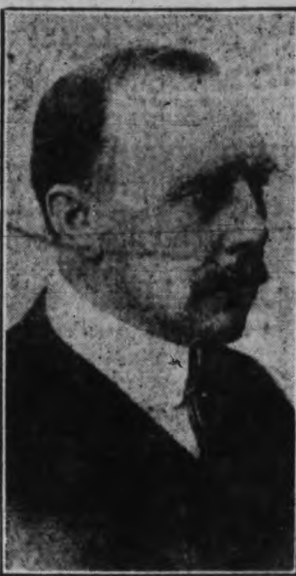

Cost of Rhine.
The maintenance cost per day for each soldier in the British forces is 16 shillings; France, 15.25 francs; United States, $4.50; Belgium, 16.50 francs, and Italy, 22 francs.

Figures compiled by each Government concerned and furnished to the Reparations Commission show the maintenance cost of the British forces of occupation as $25,451,291; France, $378,967,616; France, 230,485,470 francs; Belgium, 378,731,930, Belgian francs, and Italy, 55,207,717 francs.

Six Killed in Railway Smash in Norway.
Christiania, Sept. 19.—The opening of the new Dovre Railway in Christiania and province yesterday was marked by a serious accident to the train carrying the guests of the occasion, which was wrecked at midnight while returning from Trondheim, six persons being killed and a large number injured. King Haakon and Crown Prince Olaf went to Trondheim on the train with the guests, but decided to remain there over night, and therefore were not on board the train when it was wrecked.

OLD JAPANESE WARSHIP DAMAGED

Tokio, Sept. 19.—The battleship Mikasa, one of the older units of the Japanese fleet, has been badly damaged by striking a ledge of rock while en route to Vladivostok from the northern Siberian coast. The battleship was built in 1901, and during the Russian war was sunk. She was raised and rebuilt in 1906.

TO WEAR POPPIES ARMISTICE DAY

People Asked By G. W. V. A. to Adopt Custom

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press)—The memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice in the Great War will be revered in Canada this year by the wearing of a red poppy on Armistice Day, according to plans now being made by the Dominion Command of the Great War Veterans' Association.
The inauguration of this custom, war veterans believe, will accomplish three worthy objects. First, the custom of wearing a memorial poppy on Armistice Day; secondly, as the poppies will be sold for nominal sums, it will supply a means of providing relief funds for unemployed persons this winter, and thirdly, as the poppies will be purchased from French war veterans, it will go a long way toward the relief of distress in France.

In United States.
The custom of wearing the red poppy on Armistice Day was initiated in the United States last year by Madame Guerin of the French Children's League. Madame Guerin laid the proposal before a meeting of the executive of the Great War Veterans' Association, held recently in Port Arthur and their recommendation to the local branches of the association throughout Canada was accepted.

Janney Inquiry in Lethbridge Starts to-morrow.
Lethbridge, Alta., Sept. 19.—The investigation into the alleged case of Captain Janney will start to-morrow at 10 a. m. Janney has expressed his intention to take light food to enable him to carry through while the investigation is being held. He was weighed on Sunday, the forty-third day of his hunger strike as officially recognized, and it was found that he had lost 51½ pounds since the day he started his strike.

Power Development on Campbell River Planned

London, Sept. 19.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands in the British Columbia Government, says British interests intend to develop power on the Campbell River, Vancouver Island. A party of engineers will leave immediately. Mr. Pattullo will sail on Thursday.

There are three principal falls on the Campbell River. According to the report on water powers of B. C. issued by the Commission of Conservation of Canada, 60,000 horsepower could be developed at one fall; 3,000 at another, and 100,000 horsepower at a third, making a total power development of 63,000 horsepower.

A PIONEER PURCHASE

One interesting link with the Hudson's Bay Company fort here was furnished this morning by Mrs. S. T. Hastings, who made a purchase at the fort store in 1858. Mrs. Hastings was among the early customers at the new department store when it opened today at Douglas Street. The family home was formerly on an adjoining site.

Hudson's Bay Co.'s Store Welcomes Public To-day: Inaugural Luncheon

Throngs of eager people awaited the opening of the new Hudson's Bay Company's store this morning and when the doors were thrown open at 9 o'clock there was quite a lot of jostling before the mass gradually thinned out and spread itself over the building.

In a very brief space of time business was being carried on as though the store had been in existence in the city for years, the details of management having been worked out so carefully that there was not a hitch in the proceedings.

SUPPORT FOR BIG CONFERENCE

League Commission Commends Washington Gathering
Geneva, Sept. 19.—The final report of the League of Nations Commission on Disarmament given here today, intimates that the Washington conference, in the Commission's view, will be better able than the League to deal with naval disarmament, since this may best be accomplished through common agreement among the great powers.

Trusteeship.
The American voters were paraphrased by the Department today as follows:
"In the absence of a single recognized Russian Government, the protection of legitimate Russian interests must devolve as a moral trusteeship upon the whole conference. It is regrettable that the conference, for reasons quite beyond the control of the participating powers, is deprived of the advantage of Russian co-operation in its deliberations, but it is not to be conceived that the conference will take decisions prejudicial to the rights of Russia or which would in any manner violate Russia's rights."

Support Desired.
"It is the hope and expectation of the Government of the United States that the conference will establish general principles of international action which will deserve and have the support of the people of Siberia and of all Russia by reason of their justice and efficacy in the settlement of outstanding difficulties."

Japan.
Tokio, Sept. 19.—The receipt of the tentative proposals of the United States upon which it is expected to build a definite programme for the League conference, has stimulated a new discussion and interest in the conference, which already was great. It is believed that the Japanese Government is giving earnest consideration to the United States ideas concerning China and Siberia, and more especially such topics as equal opportunity in commerce and industry, the general question of preferential economic rights and the question of concessions, monopolies and the extension of railways to the Chinese Eastern Railway.

Brigid.
Paris, Sept. 19.—Unqualified opposition to the attendance of Premier Briand at the Washington conference on limitation of armaments is expressed in an editorial in The Journal des Debats. The article, signed by Auguste Mervin, declares that Briand absolutely no reason favors his going.

NORTH BAY PAPER.

North Bay, Ont., Sept. 19.—The first morning daily newspaper published in Northern Ontario came off the press in North Bay this morning as The Daily Nugget, which has been removed from Cobalt.

HUNDREDS OF MEN IDLE IN REGINA

Wet Weather Causes Prairie Harvest Problem

Regina, Sept. 19.—The continued wet weather has developed a situation unparalleled in this city's history. Hundreds of men are walking the streets. There will be no work until harvest operations are resumed, not before the end of the week at the earliest, and many men are destitute.

Adjutant Robert Fullerton, of the Salvation Army and president of the Regina Ministerial Association, in a statement today said:
"Hundreds of men are walking the streets. Many have not eaten for two days and they have no place to sleep. The Army is doing everything it can, but our resources are limited. I would strongly urge that steps be taken immediately to provide food and shelter for these men until work in the harvest fields starts again."

New York, Sept. 19.—A bee was blamed for an automobile accident that happened in front of the home of Ambrose Culver, near Millerton, Dutchess County, which resulted in Mrs. Charles W. Bonner wrecking her car.

Persons who went to her rescue reported that a bee lit on the back of Mrs. Bonner's neck and stung her so severely she had to let go of the steering wheel to drive it away. In the confusion she lost control of the car and it rammed a tree.

BALLOON RACE HELD IN EUROPE

First Bag Which Came Down Landed in Wales
London, Sept. 19.—The first of the balloons which got away in the James Gordon Bennett international race, which started yesterday afternoon from Brussels, was heard from this morning. This was the Ban-shee, an English entry. A message said the Banshee had landed at Sarmau, near Carmarthen, in Wales.

Under intermittent showers and strong easterly winds, the contest of the balloons was held in the James Gordon Bennett trophy started Sunday afternoon, according to a Brussels dispatch last night.
The big balloons went away at intervals of ten minutes. The English balloon, Banshee, piloted by the English aeronaut Baldwin, was sent up at 4.10 p. m., with the wind blowing between 30 and 40 miles an hour. The strong wind gave the pilots considerable trouble and Uaeilla, the Italian entrant, withdrew owing to damage to his balloon. A thrill was sent the start by a soldier who wildly hauled him up to safety. The rescue was made just as the balloon disappeared among the clouds.
Altogether fourteen balloons started in the race.

Fair Begins With Notable Showing Of Fine Livestock

Formal Opening Will Be Made By Federal Minister of Agriculture To-morrow; Some Features of Exhibition

With hundreds of exhibitors working at top speed until the last moment, the annual exhibition of the British Columbia Agricultural Association this afternoon is in readiness to welcome and surprise the remarkable increase in number of entries in all classes being one of the most striking features of the event.

The formal opening ceremony will be performed at two o'clock to-morrow by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., Minister of Agriculture, but already there are on display such a host of interesting features as to well reward to-day's visitors.

ARTILLERY AGAINST REBELS IN INDIA

Situation More Serious Than Believed at First

London, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Official investigation shows that the situation in India is more serious than was believed. The military is experiencing difficulty in dealing with the rebels, owing to the latter's mobility and the nature of the country, which is largely forest land, through which formidable gangs are scattered.

The opinion is held that the Moplahs, who fled into the jungle, could be starved out if the main roads were held and certain areas garrisoned. A high priest is heading another band which is endeavoring to join the force at Pandalur.

AT POINT OF SWORD.

A rebel conference has declared that the Hindus are to be converted to Islam at the point of the sword. A Reuter cable from Simla says that at the council of state, the Home Secretary said that except in the immediate vicinity of the troops and near the railway, the lives and property of the non-Muslims were unsafe.

The rebels, of whom five bodies are known to exist, control certain areas and re-establishment of authority is at present impossible owing to transport and communication difficulties.

MOVE AGAINST CATTLE EMBARGO

Scottish Dealers Ask Winnipeg Man to Help

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—Lieut. H. A. Mullens has received a cable from Macdonald, Fraser & Co., livestock salesmen, Perth, Scotland, asking his assistance in the matter of getting the cattle embargo removed from Canadian cattle entering Great Britain in accordance with the recent recommendation of the Royal Commission in London.

Regarding the cable, Lieut. Mullens said:
"It looks as if Scotland were waking up to the advantage of getting Canadian cattle on the free market in Great Britain, but I am afraid that when the issue comes before the Parliamentarians of Great Britain it will be lost. Our difficulty here is that the matter of getting the cattle embargo removed from Canadian cattle entering Great Britain in accordance with the recent recommendation of the Royal Commission in London."

Glasgow Opinion.
London, Sept. 19.—The view is expressed in certain quarters in Glasgow in connection with the removal of the cattle embargo, that there are not at present in Canada cattle suitable for the British market and that it will take three years to get the Canadian cattle into shipping condition. Even if the embargo should be removed there would be nothing to hinder the United States withering the tariff, thereby allowing Canadian cattle to continue to go to their natural market, it is said.

KU KLUX KLAN IN LONDON, ONT.

London, Ont., Sept. 19.—There is now being organized in London, a Canadian Ku Klux Klan, and within a week, evidence of its organization, there will be an automobile parade of charter members, arriving in the ghostly habit of the order, bearing on their breasts the red St. George Cross. One member of that party will wear a double red cross on a yellow field, showing him to be a representative of the Imperial Grand Dragon, who is the head of Anglo-Saxon Ku Klux Klan of the world.

Active Work.

What can be accomplished by willing workers was well exemplified throughout the morning in the agricultural building. Where at 9 o'clock were bare walls and vacant stands, by midday cleverly constructed displays were well towards completion. This is especially notable in the areas devoted to the district displays.

Five collections will this year compete for agricultural honors. Richmond has sent over the magnificent array which swept up all honors at New Westminster last year. Victoria District, including Gordon Head and Saanich south of Royal Oak has an excellent collection well displayed. Saanich is as usual represented by a splendid array of new stalls. The most comprehensive collection of home preserves in the show and a strong aggregation of field products. Sooke is represented by an even finer display. Nanaimo has a fine collection of products with excellent effect.

Boost in Livestock.

Livestock is without doubt the section of this year's Fair, which has experienced the greatest expansion. Although the stalls have been constructed, there is not an unoccupied foot of space in this department.

Nearly 400 sheep are entered, with many splendid specimens.

The swine section is far overflowed all anticipated entry, and is now housed in the quarters last year devoted to sheep.

All through yesterday truck loads of cattle arrived, and the stalls reserved for them in the up-to-date cattle building, but new arrivals continued to come in up to the opening this afternoon, filling the great building to capacity.

Valera Asks Lloyd George For Further Statement

London, Sept. 19.—Eamonn de Valera, the Sinn Fein leader, telegraphed to Premier Lloyd George to-day asking whether the Prime Minister's letter of September 7 was intended "as a demand for a surrender on our part or an invitation to a conference free on both sides and without prejudice should an agreement not be reached."

De Valera says if the latter is meant, the Sinn Fein confirms its acceptance of the invitation to a conference and its delegates are ready to meet the British representatives any time in the immediate future.

Must Be Withdrawn.

In his message to the Irish "Republican" leader, the Prime Minister insisted upon the delegates acting as representatives of an independent state, and declared that unless that section of de Valera's recent letter insisted upon the delegates acting as representatives of an independent state, the Sinn Fein delegates as representatives of an independent state, a conference between the members of the British Government and the Sinn Fein delegates would be impossible.

Help Meeting.

Dublin, Sept. 19.—The Daily Eireann "Cabinet" held a full meeting this afternoon lasting an hour. Michael Collins, "Minister of Finance," and Charles Burgess, "Minister of Defense," left the meeting early.

London, Sept. 19.—The next move in the exchanges between Premier Lloyd George and the Sinn Fein was awaited here with interest to-day.

Premier Lloyd George yesterday added another to the bribe fire of telegrams between Dublin and Gair-

NOW RETREATING

Yielding Territory to Turks in Asia Minor

Constantinople, Sept. 19.—Greek forces which engaged in the offensive against the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor have begun a general retreat: toward the positions they held before the drive began. The information received here indicates the Greeks have fallen back across the Sakaria River, the forcing of which caused heavy casualties. The movement backward across the river was accomplished without enemy pressure.

DECLARES CHURCH
NEEDS NEW MESSAGE

Chicago Minister Addresses World Methodist Conference

London, Sept. 19.—Modern ministers are trained as mere "salesmen" instead of Christian apostles and that is the one reason why the people are not really having a lukewarm attitude toward religion, declared Rev. Dr. J. S. Ladd Thomas, of Chicago, in an address here before the Ecumenical Methodist Conference. The speaker said he saw "a real peril" in the effort of denomination leaders to force the ministry into a narrow and mechanical scheme whose direct aim is to produce the largest immediate revenue.

"Poorly attended churches all over the land bear witness to the people's indifference toward institutional religion," said Dr. Thomas. "Full churches are the exception rather than the rule. It is the empty church which stares us in the face and more eloquently than words speaks of the attitude of that large group of people who have rejected institutional religion as something unnecessary in their lives."

Pleasure Mad. "They are pleasure mad; they have a mania for materialistic indulgence, while their belief in the modern church as the representative of God and the Ambassador of Christ does not express itself. The real problem," the speaker indicated, "is how to vitalize the church so that she may be authoritative and convincingly assert the mission of sacrificial service. Asserting that 'the average artisan lacks confidence in the church as the champion of the square deal,'" he continued:

"This indifference has arisen from a misconception of God—a wrong teaching of the church and a wrong teaching of the Christian life. In many of the critical hours of history the church has failed to impress the world with an authoritative message, which would bring light into the dark hours on the subject of war, the relations of capital and labor and other vital questions which have been baffling the minds of men."

"Prophets and priests," Dr. Thomas said, must "challenge the people with a gospel that will restore confidence in the church, trust in Christ and service to the world. The church must not forget her social message, but she must also remember that Christianity is a religion of the individual."

BELFAST GIRL WAS KILLED IN STREET

Gunmen Fired Many Shots; Troops Intervened

Belfast, Sept. 19.—A girl was shot dead and another was gravely wounded in a fusillade of revolver firing in Vere Street yesterday afternoon. The gunmen in the neighborhood were obliged to scurry to shelter. Soldiers hastened to the scene and turned machine guns on various points infested by gunmen. Vere Street and the district round about continued in a ferment until the curfew.

The wounded girl died in a hospital. An outbreak also occurred in Seaford Street, the Sinn Fein district of East Belfast. A bomb was thrown and there was much revolver firing.

Bombs Found. London, Sept. 19.—Through a coroner's inquest Saturday into the death of a young Irishman, Michael McInerney, as a result of an explosion in a garage here on July 28 it developed that the police found a well-stocked incendiary bomb factory in the garage where the explosion occurred. The coroner's jury found that death resulted from the manufacture of incendiary bombs. Police officers testified that 1,500 bombs, two revolvers, part of a machine gun and tools were found on the premises. They also said a note was found containing advice on the manufacture of the "clock apparatus." The police withheld the nature of their discoveries at the time of the explosion.

AGED MAN BUILDS
HOUSES UNAIDED

Although entering his 72nd year with enough money to retire and take up golf, Frank D. Johnson of Brooklyn, New York, continues to erect houses all by himself and sell them.

For the last fifty years he has worked ten to twelve hours a day at this pursuit and now is putting up still another one-man house. No hands but his own have touched the structure since he started it.

Last July while he was working on the house, it was struck by lightning. Digging himself out of the debris, Johnson rubbed some arnica on his bruises and was back on the job the next day.

Born in Boston of Revolutionary War stock, Johnson expects to live to 100. He has all but two of his original teeth and scarcely a hair has fallen from his head.

"I could have knocked off and taken it easy, but if I had done so I would now be reposing in some graveyard," was the way Johnson put it.

Besides being a stonemason, bricklayer, carpenter, plasterer, plumber, tinsmith, painter, paperhanger, decorator, glazier, electrician, wood carver and cabinet maker, Johnson studied all the ins and outs of law governing real estate, so as to save all title searching and allied fees.

BISHOP DIED. St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 19.—Bishop Thomas O'Gorman, of the Sioux Falls, S. D. diocese, died in that city Saturday night, according to a telegram received by Archbishop Austin Dowling here. He was born in Boston, May 1, 1843, and came West with his parents some years later. He was installed in the pro-cathedral at Sioux Falls in May, 1898.

New York, Sept. 19.—The World this morning denied the report that Bishop Manning of New York had ruled against the marriage of Rev. Dr. Percy Suckney Grant to Mrs. Lydis, a divorcee, and had forbidden any Protestant Episcopal clergy to perform the ceremony.

Report Adopted by Presbyterian Assembly in London

London, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A report submitted to the Presbyterian Assembly, being an amendment on the report on the question of union with the Congregationalists, was carried by a large majority. The report in question recognizes that it is impracticable in the meantime to proceed with the question of union on account of the revival of certain charges by the members of the Congregational Union against the Presbyterian Church.

SIX WELLS AT FORT NORMAN

Drilling Is in Full Swing in Oil Area and Rapid Progress is Being Made

Edmonton, Sept. 19.—Drilling will be in full swing at six wells at Fort Norman this fall, according to Wada, the Japanese, and W. C. Wilson, who is post manager for the Northern Trading Company at Fort Norman, who have just returned from the oil fields in the north. Both are very enthusiastic over the progress being made in the oil fields. Four of these wells are Imperial Oil Company property, while the other two are of the Fort Norman Company and the Mackenzie River Company. This is Mr. Wilson's first visit to Edmonton in two years. He, with a number of others, came into Edmonton on a special train from Fort Norman, over the A. & G. W. Railway, arranged for the purpose of rushing Mrs. G. Reid, a Church of England missionary, from Fort McPherson in the Northwest Territory, to the General Hospital in Edmonton to undergo an operation.

The arrival of the party has exploded the rumor that the Imperial Oil Company has struck another oil gusher on Bear Island. "It is impossible that the Imperial Oil gang should have struck oil since we left," said Wada. "They had not started boring at the time. We departed from Fort Norman July 25 and they cannot be down more than 100 feet or so at the present time."

The Imperial Oil Company has staked some 16 claims recently giving them 64 square miles, while they are staking still more and buying up every inch of property in the Fort Norman fields.

The Fort Norman Company is drilling on the Nicholson claim six miles from the Imperial No. 1, and about 45 miles from Fort Norman. The Imperial Oil Company has removed its drilling outfit from Imperial No. 1 and are starting operations with this outfit on the Sima's claim on the opposite side of the river.

CONVICT KILLED
GUARD ON FARM

Tried to Escape in Arkansas; Dynamite in Chicago

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 19.—Tom Slaughter, notorious Oklahoma bandit, Sunday added another chapter to his long list of crimes when, in a sensational attempt to escape from the Arkansas penal farm he killed one man and perhaps fatally wounded two others, all trusty guards, with a rifle smuggled to him by someone on the outside.

Bliss Adkinson, a draft evader serving an eighteen-year sentence for a murder committed when he was a convict, was shot and killed. Slaughter tried to capture him and other evaders in the mountains of Claiborne County, was killed. James Morris and Dewitt Taylor, the other guards, were shot through the body and are not expected to live. Sam Payne, a lifer, forced Slaughter to surrender at the point of a revolver.

Slaughter was brought from Tucker, where the farm was located, to the penitentiary, and is being held in solitary confinement. When he was shot Fulton Green, for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Brown, of Hot Springs, about a year ago, Slaughter was wanted for bank robberies and murder.

Dynamite. Chicago, Sept. 19.—Fourteen hundred sticks of dynamite three inches in diameter and ten inches long, and one hundred sticks of T.N.T., were seized to-day by police, following the capture of five dynamiters in the act of bombing a shoe repair shop. One of the prisoners was shot in the side by the police, who had surrounded the shop for ten hours following a mysterious tip that it was to be bombed.

SOUTH AFRICA AND EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Smuts Says Plan Not Good One for Country

London, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A Reuter cable from Pretoria says: "Replying to a protest from the railwaymen's union against the administration's proposed modification of the eight-hour day on the ground that—cancellation of the eight-hour day is not in accord with the peace treaty, Premier Smuts points out that the treaty simply lays down an eight-hour day as a standard to be aimed at. He adds that the Government of the South African Union has not ratified the eight-hour day convention agreed to at Washington, and has explained to the labor officers of the League of Nations the unsuitability to South African conditions."

Civil Servants Make Representations to Ottawa Government

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press)—Following the conference on Thursday between the Prime Minister and members of the House of Commons, representatives of the Civil Service Association, at which it was announced that the services of the Griffiths-Hagen Company, efficiency experts, would be dispensed with within two months, the Civil Service Association is now endeavoring to secure from the Government the assurance that no civil servants will be dismissed as the result of reorganization during the present winter. Unemployment conditions, it is felt, would make any dismissals a very serious hardship.

SYLVIA PANKHURST

London, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The Workers' Dreadnought, Sylvia Pankhurst's organ, has suspended publication. Financial difficulties and opposition from the Communist Party, which had expelled Miss Pankhurst for refusing to allow the paper to be controlled by the executive of that party, are the reasons given for the demise of the publication.

WIRELESS STATION
FIRST OF CHAIN

Opened at Leaffield, Oxfordshire, England

Postmaster-General Kellaway recently opened at Leaffield, Oxfordshire, England, the first station in a wireless chain which, when completed, will link up almost every part of the British Empire. The Leaffield station, designed entirely by the Post Office Department, will communicate with the corresponding station at Abu Zabal, near Cairo. This station is expected to be completed in three months. It will also be used for communication with Mesopotamia, and probably for broadcasting news to India.

Leaffield and Abu Zabal will form the first pair of a series of four stations, the third being in East Africa and the fourth in South Africa.

Messages. The first message sent from the station, as part of the opening ceremony, was a message of greeting to all British and to all European and other foreign wireless stations within range. That to British stations expressed the wish that the station would "help to knit still closer the bonds which bind together the different parts of the Empire." That to the other stations concluded with the wish that the development of wireless communication will help to knit still closer the bonds of unity which bind the British Empire to all other states.

Within half an hour replies were received from Malta, Paris, Christiania, Posen, Prague, Denmark, Budapest, Rome and Berlin.

Mr. Kellaway said in an address that at the recent Empire conference great interest was taken by Premier Lloyd George in the possibilities of wireless telephony. If those possibilities could be realized they might have Premier Hughes in Melbourne talking to Mr. Lloyd George in Downing Street.

"It sounds like fairyland," said Mr. Kellaway enthusiastically. "It will make the world a great family in a way that they have never been before."

TELLS HOW CATARRH IS DESTROYED QUICKLY

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be fixed up right at home by inhaling Catarrhose. In using Catarrhose you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing, piney vapor direct to the lungs and sinuses. The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists—germs are killed, foul secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and the disease ends quickly. Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhose is breathed—sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed. Bronchitis, irritation and weakness in the throat disappear. Use Catarrhose whether young or old. Two months' treatment, $1.00; small size, 50c; dealers everywhere or The Catarrhose Co., Montreal. VICTORIA'S VISITOR.

Victoria always experiences a peculiar sense of satisfaction in the visit of the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway and such of his colleagues as he may choose to bring with him. It is the periodical reminder that this part of the Dominion is just as important from the company's point of view as any other. Were it possible for Mr. Beatty to make these visits more frequent he would find a welcome just as warm as that which is being extended to him to-day.

It is considerably more than twelve months since the Canadian Pacific Railway executive head came as far as Vancouver Island for the first time in the capacity to which he succeeded some two years ago. On that occasion he was careful to confine his public utterances more to the language of stocktaking than to that of fulsome promises for the future. None the less he will doubtless recall his announced intention to erect new railway and steamship terminals at this port although he qualified his promise of such development with the delicate hint that a joint bridge across the harbor would have to be regarded as a civic accompaniment to the expansion contemplated.

It can be taken for granted that Mr. Beatty does not require an official remembrance; we merely refer to the observations made on his previous visit because he will note with pleasure that the harbor bridge is now well under way.

THOSE CANTEN FUND.

Nobody would suppose that a business organization—even though it be the Government of the country—would be guilty of disposing of funds entrusted to its care without appropriate and adequate safeguards. But when the Prime Minister attempts to justify the disposal, however small a contribution it may be, of any part of the profits accruing from the canteen business of the Canadian Expeditionary Force to one particular organization of returned men he is embarking upon a difficult task. As we pointed out a few days ago it is more than likely that the Great War Veterans' Association as a whole would be totally opposed to the acceptance of sole responsibility for distribution of the fund in question for the obvious reason that even its large membership could not be regarded as completely representative of the great body of returned men in this country. Nor is it likely that a proportionate division between the various organized bodies of ex-service men would be approved for a further reason that many former members of the C. E. F. have not identified themselves with any of the bodies now in existence. The fact that the course followed by the Government was recommended by a parliamentary committee means nothing. On the other hand it can be taken for granted that if a vote of the returned soldier organizations could be taken it would be found that the majority of their several memberships would favor distribution either to the Red Cross Society or some such body actively interested in taking care of those disabled men who would be quite stranded were they not able to rely upon agencies other than the State for a chance to recover the usefulness which they lost in the country's cause. The Dominion Government should hesitate before making any further payments from the fund unless it is prepared to do as much for the needy cases as has been found absolutely necessary to do by the Red Cross. There is an important principle at stake.

ANOTHER PHRASE.

If de Valera expected to catch Mr. Lloyd George napping with "self-recognition" as a substitute for the aggravating Sinn Féin interpretation of "government by the consent of the governed" it has not taken him long to discover his mistake. The British Prime Minister is not to be "had." He has told the Sinn Féin leader in a further telegram now made public that the Cabinet will not meet any delegates acting as representatives of an independent Ireland. The latest communication is firm in tone but is described as displaying solicitude to furnish de Valera with a favorable opening for the abandonment of his recent attitude. Mr. Lloyd George has told the self-styled "president" that he is prepared to discuss with him "how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire can best be reconciled with Irish national aspirations." All of which cannot imply more than a willingness on the part of the British Cabinet to improve a relationship which already exists. To interpret "association" and a desire to "reconcile" as any form of support to a theory that the terms imply an already recognized independent state is another example of phrase juggling. When the Sinn Féin leader comes down to earth he will find Mr. Lloyd George ready to meet him—not before.

THE NEW STORE.

Commercial and industrial expansion in any community is usually determined by the manner in which its own people interpret the promise of the future. The growth of Victoria and the enterprise of its citizens contribute a chapter to the history of Vancouver Island of which the people of this part of Canada may well be proud. In a comparatively short span of years, short enough to permit those who were here to witness the small beginnings of what was destined to become the capital city of the Province of British Columbia to tell their own narrative of the intervening period, this community has passed from the status of a small trading post into the realm of cities known all over the world. Circumstances decreed that the vast organization first to be associated with this part of Vancouver Island should leave it to other progressive interests to work out Victoria's commercial destiny until this latter period; but to-day's ceremony at its new store on Douglas Street finally identifies the Hudson's Bay Company with those other established enterprises to whom local progress and development owe so much. With this added impetus Victoria's growth should be hastened and the country as a whole once more reminded that the capital city of British Columbia does not understand the meaning of standing still.

GOOD NEWS.

Although the cabled dispatch does not give any details of the nature or scope of the enterprise, the Hon. T. D. Pattullo announced in London to-day that British interests had decided to develop power on the Campbell River and that a party of engineers would leave the Old Country for this Island immediately. It has long been a matter of common knowledge, of course, that the three falls on the river in question constitute two-thirds of the water power available on the Island. The fact that these auxiliaries to industrial progress and development are to be harnessed will be welcome news to this part of the country and useful to those who are looking Westward for profitable investments.

GETTING CONSOLATION.

If the current opinion among Scottish agricultural interests may be taken seriously it would seem to suggest that the British embargoists are beginning to ensnare themselves in anticipation of amending legislation to permit Canadian cattle to enter Great Britain. The theory is now advanced that there are no cattle in Canada at the present time suitable for the British market and that it will take three years to get our stock into shipping condition. Additional comfort seems to be derived from the obvious fact that there is nothing to prevent the United States from withdrawing its tariff with a subsequent diversion of Canadian cattle across the border instead of across the Atlantic. All the same the British stockbreeder had better make up his mind to the spectacle of speedy shipments of live cattle from this side very soon after the embargo is lifted—if such should be the case. And in the event of a removal of the United States tariff into the bargain he can still expect to see a large business between this Dominion and the Motherland. After all we do eat decent beef in Canada.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Mr. J. H. Thomas, the British Railwaymen's leader, has again declared that a general strike as a panacea for unemployment would be ridiculous and that other kinds of social upheaval would be equally absurd. Quite so; but there are still those who emulate the Bourbons and learn nothing and forget nothing.

It is suggested in some Sinn Féin quarters that de Valera may be content to leave the present deadlock in the Irish peace negotiations as it stands and discontinue the correspondence. Our guess is that he will do nothing of the sort—the advertising is altogether too good to be missed.

Constantinople advises intimate that the Greek forces engaged in the offensive against the Kemalists in Asia Minor have begun a retreat towards the positions held by them before the drive began. Meanwhile the rest of the world is less interested than ever it was in wars and rumors of war.

When the President of the Canadian Pacific Railway was here in January of 1920 we reminded him of the brilliance of the weather at that time and told him that it was merely an average specimen. Will he kindly take this reminder as a repetition of our remarks of the period referred to?

APPOINTMENTS

Additional List is Announced Following Executive Council.

According to the provisions of order-in-council passed by the Executive Council this morning the following appointments were made:

Frank B. Kelly, to be secretary of the Conservation Board, replacing Reginald Howe, who has become secretary of the Liquor Control Board.

W. H. Kelly, of Vancouver, to be a commissioner for taking affidavits in connection with amusement ticket accounts.

Walter Butterworth, of the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, is continued as a commissioner for taking affidavits.

Thomas A. Perry, of Fort Graham, to be deputy mining recorder for Ontario in place of William Fox.

Another order-in-council provides for the consolidation of mining leases of the Cariboo Gold and Platinum Extracting Company, Nos. 11, 12, 13 and 14, in Central British Columbia have been listed for general sale at prices ranging from $2.50 to $10 per acre.

This is an uncertain day, according to astrology, but friendly stars do favor the sign of Neptune and Venus are in benefic aspect. Mercury and Uranus are adverse.

It is a most auspicious planetary rule for forwarding the aims of women. Great honors, long prophesied, will crown them, and one at least will sit in conference with great statesmen. Neptune seems to indicate that there will be an access of respect for the achievements of women and their power to carry on large enterprises.

Happiness should come to all who are married on this day, for sympathy and understanding should assure them serenity and co-operation in all important affairs.

Neptune is in a way supposed to increase the tendency to practical and common sense views of life.

Mental poise and sound judgment should characterize the attitude of women during this rule of the stars. Care should be exercised in committing one's opinions to writing when Mercury is in sinister way. This is a day when letters and papers should be safeguarded.

There is a sign to-day read as pre-aging some sort of news that will excite the public and cause diverse opinions.

This is not a fortunate rule for naval navigation as accidents are more likely to happen when Uranus is in evil place than at other times.

There is a sign to-day that is supposed to make persons unduly sensitive and to cause offence on slight provocation.

There should be a most auspicious birthday. Persons whose birthday it is have the augury of success and happiness during the coming year.

Children born on this day may be fickle and unsteady, but very lucky. These subjects of Venus are on the cusp and have many Libra characteristics.

OVERSIGHT, PROBABLY.

CELEBRATION IN GERMANY SPOILED

Berlin, Sept. 19.—A celebration at Wilmersdorf of the Battle of Tannenberg, following the anniversary of that engagement, fought in East Prussia in 1914, was broken up yesterday by Socialists and Communists who overpowered the Nationalists, the holders of the celebration, and compelled their band to play revolutionary airs. The radicals also forced the band to accompany them to Bernau, where a bust of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm and banners which they had captured were burned in the market place.

POLITICS

Liberals 100, Tories 60.
Both Middle Course Parties.
Natural Affinity?
Union Purpose Accomplished.
No More Merger Hump.

Mr. Meighen should be flattered to have 60 followers in the next Parliament.

Mackenzie King should feel equally flattered to be conceded 100.

The National Progressive party will get most of the rest, some 70 seats.

This is the editorial forecast of the result of the election by The Ottawa Citizen, which is now both anti-Mackenzie King and anti-Meighen.

Unpreparedness of the Progressives in the cities, The Citizen blames for them being able to count on only a few more seats than the Meighen party.

It asserts that the natural alignment of parties in Canada, in the public interest, would be in the direction of an alliance between Mackenzie King Liberals and Meighen Liberals and Conservatives. It sees little hope of there being much in common between the Liberal party on the one hand and labor and the Progressives on the other. It blames both old parties for the present economic condition of Canada. It declares the Liberals are not "advanced" enough.

The Citizen says:

Mr. King says that the Liberal party's fiscal policy is to take the "middle course" between high tariff protectionism and free trade.

Mr. Meighen says that the National Liberal and Conservative party's policy is for a "moderate tariff"—similarly between the extreme of free trade and high tariff protectionism.

There is a natural affinity between followers of King and Meighen.

Progressives want to make fundamental changes, to set up equality of opportunity to all and special privilege to none.

Progressives could serve Canada well for a few sessions by giving Parliament a real opposition.

The Toronto Globe, however, asserts that there is no occasion calling for a merger of the two parties, still less for an absorption of any element of Liberalism into Toryism.

It draws an analogy between 1867 and 1917.

In 1867 the Hon. George Brown and other Reformers entered or supported a coalition for carrying out Confederation. But they withdrew from the temporary alliance when that object was accomplished. Liberals who chose to remain in Sir John A. Macdonald's Government after 1867 were thenceforth recognized as Conservatives who had severed their relations with Liberalism.

In 1917 Liberals headed by Mr. Fielding supported and entered the Union Government for a definite purpose, with the understanding that there was to be a temporary alliance, "not a merger or absorption into Toryism." Now Mr. Fielding, in pursuance of the understanding of 1917, has returned to his Liberal associations.

The Globe says:

The object of the temporary union of parties having been accomplished, there is no further reason for its existence.

There is no Unionist Government and there is no Unionist party.

Those former Liberals who choose to remain in or to support the Meighen Government must be regarded as having definitely renounced their Liberal principles.

Their conversion to Toryism is all the more emphatic because they make their choice not only against the Liberal but against the Progressive party.

Out of three or more parties or groups they choose that which represents reaction and resistance to progress.

Let us have no hump about a mythical Unionist or Liberal and Conservative party, which exists only in imagination.

One line of business is highly active—the rush for Federal jobs before the Meighen Government itself is unemployed—Toronto Globe.

Cabinet and the Sinn Féin plenipotentiaries would be impossible. Notwithstanding the firm tone of Premier Lloyd George's telegram, it is interpreted as displaying solicitude to furnish de Valera a favorable opening for abandonment of his recent attitude.

The Message.
The text of Premier Lloyd George's message follows:
"I have received your telegram of last night and observe it does not modify the claim that your delegates should meet us as representatives of a sovereign and independent state."

"You made no such condition in advance when you came to see me in July. I invited you then to meet me in the words of my letter, as the chosen leader of the great majority in Southern Ireland, and you accepted that invitation."
"From the very outset of our conversations I told you that we looked to Ireland to own allegiance to the throne and to make her future as a member of the British commonwealth. That was the basis of our proposals and we cannot alter it."

Repetition.
"The status quo now claim in advance is in effect a repudiation of that basis. I am prepared to meet your delegates, as I met you in July, in the capacity of the chosen spokesman for your people, to discuss this association of Ireland with the British commonwealth."
"My colleagues and I cannot meet them as representatives of a sovereign and independent state without disloyalty on our part to the throne and the Empire. I must, therefore, repeat that unless the second part of your letter of the 12th is withdrawn, a conference between us is impossible."

The second paragraph of de Valera's letter of September 12, to which Mr. Lloyd George alluded in his latest telegram, reads:

"In this final note we deem it our duty to reaffirm that our position is and can only be as we have defined it throughout our correspondence. Our nation has formally declared its independence and recognizes itself as a sovereign state. It is only as representatives of that state and as its chosen guardians that we have authority or power to act on behalf of our people. As regards the principle of government by consent of the governed, in the very nature of that principle, we must have an agreement that will achieve the purpose we have at heart—that is, the final reconciliation of our nation with yours. We have suggested no interpretation of that principle, save its every-day interpretation—the sense, for example, in which it was understood by the public men and women of the world when on January 5, 1918, the settlement of Europe must be based on such grounds of reason and justice that will give some promise of stability. Therefore, we regard the government by consent of the governed must be the basis of any territorial settlement in this war."

NOTES FROM THE BUILDINGS.

The Women's Building is the scene of fully twice the activity of last year immediately upon entering the building is greeted by the ladies of the Lake Hill or the Esquimalt Women's Institutes, who have both organized excellent displays of the skill of their membership. This building also houses a remarkable showing of Vancouver Island produced wools, the whole of the north end being devoted to the collection of home-made garments—a testimonial to the large interest aroused in home spinning as a result of last year's exhibit.

In regard to woolsens, the Dominion Department of Agriculture this year features in the main Agriculture Building a display of Canadian made goods, and the processes required to produce them from Canadian grown wool.

Another section of the Dominion display is devoted to the first display of the results accruing to poultry keepers from tramping experiments of the past three years, this being of value in securing for certified heavily producing flocks a high price for breeding stock. The examples used at this demonstration are from Courtenay and Langford.

In the Women's Building is one of the most remarkable collections of native birds ever arranged, the entire display having been secured in the Gordon Head district by Mrs. J. H. Staveley, who has also mounted and arranged them. This attraction will prove one of the most interesting in the Women's Building, the surprising variety of small birds existing in the district being generally commented upon by the other exhibitors in the building.

So great has been the demand for space from the increased number of exhibitors, there is not a spare foot of room, while it is noticeable that the displays are all on a far more elaborate scale than in former years.

True to their promises the automobile fraternity have gathered together a remarkable display of cars in the building allotted to their use. Stripped chassis show the operation of some of these models, especially those of new design, while the collection as a whole embraces the last word in motoring equipment.

Poultry and Rabbits.
Poultry has always been one of the strong points of the Victoria Exhibition, but this year the entries under this head are of far greater importance than in the past. The well-known Warrington collection of unusual birds is again here from Cornwall, Ont., but whereas in last year's show this and another cauldron from Winnipeg made up the bulk of the show, this year there are over 700 birds entered, with more than 500 of local origin. Besides the great increase in interest in breeding stock on Vancouver Island, the collection at the Willows shows that the grade of poultry now bred has vastly improved, there being some serious work before the judges before many of the awards will be made.

Similarly the goatbreeders have greatly expanded. No longer is the space used last year large enough for

This is located one mile south of Clinton on the Cariboo Road. The salts cover about 18 inches all over top of the lake. They are shovelled up, and wheeled to a board, where the Indians pound up the crystals fine enough for them to be placed in bags and shipped to refinery. The salt crystals shown in photograph are ninety-eight per cent. pure, even without refining. The lake recovers itself every year. The area of the Lake is about two acres. The deposit is being worked by American interests, who ship salts to their refinery at Oroville, Wash.

TO HOLD NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON CHILD WELFARE

Dominion Council Arranges Comprehensive Programme; Public Invited

Slowly but surely there is gaining ground in Canada the realization that the human asset is the most valuable possession of the nation, and public bodies as well as Government authorities are alive to the vital need of conserving this asset in the direction and shaping their efforts to this end. VOGUE FORETELLS AUTUMN MODES

Longer Skirts Coming, to Be Subtly and Gracefully Lengthened

New York, Sept. 19.—There is one clothes question that is at the moment in the minds of nine women out of ten. "Are skirts really going to be longer?"—and if so, how much longer?

Not in years has a fashion verdict been awaited with so much interest. The short skirt has been so popular—so comfortable and, to most women, so becoming that quite naturally there is a reluctance to part with it and a horrible vision of trailing lengths that sweep the dust.

But it isn't so bad as all that—in fact, it isn't bad any way you look at it.

Longer, translated, means eight inches off the ground for street clothes—not much chance for dust sweeping them—and two to four inches for the evening.

This change may seem sudden to some women, but like all of fashion's moves to-day it really is quite gradual and truth to tell quite logical.

Vogue announced definitely as long ago as September, 1920, that skirts were growing longer, and has reported steadily ever since just how the all-powerful French dressmakers were conspiring to accomplish their ends with no abrupt shock to their customers.

Has Definitely Arrived.

Every one remembers quite plainly the floating wisps of crepe de chine or chiffon which first became the fashion in the Spring of 1920. Little did women know, when they accepted this vagary of fashion, just how much they were letting themselves in for. It is true that the "noticed" that these wisps hung below the skirt proper, but then it was still a short skirt. Then, somehow, they were more wispy—pretty things, and often they hung down farther than they had at first—but, of course, the skirt proper was short. Then, all at once, panels which hung at either side joined the brigade of wisps—but, of course, the dressmakers explained quite convincingly, you couldn't expect to have wisps of cloth—and since you'd become accustomed to wisps, you just naturally had to have something more. So, the wisps grew more definitely in character and the eye saw them and lost sight of the skirt proper. Then, last year, straight-line short-skirt looks decidedly out of style, and the long skirt has very definitely arrived.

Next in importance to skirt length comes the question of silhouettes. Time was when one said "the silhouette"—but those simple days when a single silhouette dominated the season's fashions have passed until to-day we have almost a half dozen from which to choose, each playing its very definite part in the scheme of things.

First comes the suit, which, due to Parisian enthusiasm, has become more popular than in several seasons. This year, it is made, very likely, of kasha cloth, or broadcloth, called back into favor. Its coat may either be straight and beltless or with a slightly curved waist-line and godets on the side, but flat back and front. Its color is black, black combining with grey, very dark red or the new Madeleine blue. Its skirt is nine inches from the ground.

Greek Silhouette.

Vising with it in popularity is the coat-dress, a real feature of the coming season, with its high collar of fur, lowered waist-line, defined by a gleaming steel belt and sometimes embroidered in cut steel beads; its long sleeves, its fuller and longer skirt, its deep, rich color further enriched by peacock embroidery.

Next comes the afternoon dress, offered in several interesting silhouettes, but best liked, perhaps, in two. One is in the real peasant spirit, with its characteristically long, loose blouse lines, straight wide sleeves, lowered waist-line, a sash loosely knotted about the waist, and hanging skirt—unveiled of hem, and with touches of embroidery reminiscent of southern Europe, adding to its color effect. The other is the straight silhouette, which retains many of the features of last season's chemise dress, falling straight from the shoulder and simply belted at the waist. This is the most conservative silhouette, but the least new in effect. Because of its generally wearable qualities, it is likely to be the most worn. Then, for evening, comes the Greek silhouette, a lovely thing of grace and charm—ideal for the dinner party or the theatre.

In white or delicate colors and soft patternless fabrics, it is apt to be sleeveless and may be either straight or pleated or faultlessly draped. The Grande Saine in Paris, that last week of the races which is so smart both as to events and as to the modes which it brings out, proved the power of this Greek gown as its white rill trailed through the marvelous riot of color at the various evening affairs.

In that same week was introduced the silhouette of the Italian Renaissance, its decorative possibilities and unrelieved straight-line best exemplified in gleaming brocades of velvet, its style best suited to the evening.

Then, to top it all, as if this were not enough, we have the Spanish silhouette and the general Spanish influence on the mode. This has made necessary something to define the waist-line, something which may be called a corset, but is more correctly a girdle.

It, too, is seen at its best in evening things, for there it gains its proper background and has a setting which complements its delicate bouffant silhouette. It is a lovely thing of lace and flowers.

The head-dress is one of the most interesting ideas of the moment. Paris has been wearing it for a couple of seasons, and New York first took it seriously last Winter. The simple is legion—it varies from the simplest lariat wreath to a Bacchantian head-dress, a mass of jewels and color.

Naturally, earrings accompany it frequently, for even if we do not go so far as to show our ears, as Paris would have us do, at least we acknowledge them with barrings.

Fans, which have such possibilities of adding coquetry and charm will be carried everywhere. Odd

THEY'RE NOT SPEAKING NOW.

Dolly—What a time you've been! Yes—Yes, I had to wait at the hairdresser's before they could do my hair.

Dolly—Why didn't you tell them to stop?

Now they never speak as they pass by—Edinburgh Scotsman.

primitive designs in feathers, as well as those of the delicate Louis XVI. period, with its fragile, airy, and with the vivid qualities of the Spanish type.

Hats for the evening absolutely distinctive from the others, were seen at every restaurant in the Bois in Paris late in the Summer. Maria Guy was the originator of many of these. Too, demand attention—the becoming, large-beamed, black, from the drapery of the lace, heavy and Spanish in pattern, which fell from the brim to the waist line. For the daytime, small velvet toques, with high trimming in the direct centre, and very swathed turbans, in fuchsia tones of violet and red, were worn most effectively with the ever-present earrings.

Belts are more noticeable than they have been in some seasons. In gleaming metal or gay, colored belts in the daytime, soft sashes in the afternoon, and everything from flowers to jewels in the evening.

Sleeves, too, demand attention—always long for the street, sometimes narrow, sometimes wide, sometimes slashed musketeer, this for afternoon, and more to be colorful. Sometimes half is of one fabric, half of another, again, part is embroidered in color.

We have a season which offers a variety of silhouettes to suit every taste and every occasion, and which introduces a longer skirt, and which introduces, so gracefully and, withal, in so wide a variety of fashions, that one can but accept the verdict with thanks.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

PRINCE JOSE'S JOURNEY. Part IV.

Jose did as White Pussy told him, but he expected her to follow. To his surprise, when he was in the cave, he found she was not behind him.

Creeping along cautiously to a place where he could look out, he saw in the moonlight, Pussy cat dancing around him in graceful circles, first backward and then forward, to one side and then the other, as graceful as a fairy.

Her front paws held her pink satin gown at each side and from under the full folds of her skirt Jose caught glimpses of her little feet in the satin slippers.

His danger was almost forgotten, so charmed was he with the graceful dancing, and he was about to applaud when a hollow, high-pitched voice yelled, "Bravo, my beautiful White Pussy, bravo, bravo-o-o-o!"

Jose felt the chills run up and down his back as the voice came and he started back. Then he forgot all caution, for lying on the ground he saw the beautiful White Pussy quite still, her front paws held the cave and bent over her and just then she opened her eyes. "It is nothing, I am quite well again," she said. "Sometimes I have to dance a long time, for I dare not stop until he calls out and I know he is off and that I am free for a while at least."

"Is there any way in which I can help you?" asked Jose. "I know that this wicked magician holds you in his spell, but I will free you if I can."

"Yes, there is one way," replied White Pussy. "In a secret chamber in this forest, is a metal box which contains the magic mirror, but I have never seen the place since the night I was brought here, when I was taken to that place and given the box to open."

"A glance into that fatal mirror changed me into what you now see, and the only way I can regain my own shape is to get the mirror and look into it again and learn the magic word that will break the spell."

"Since I walked from that doorway I have never found that path of white

Kilbane Banned From Boxing In Home Town

Featherweight Champion In Trouble For His Dominating Attitude Before Cleveland Boxing Commission on Saturday; Bout With Danny Frush, In Which Johnny Retained Title, Wildest In History of Ring.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 19.—Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane will not be permitted to box in a local ring again, J. B. Wilder, chairman of the Cleveland boxing commission, announced last night. When Kilbane signed articles recently to meet Danny Frush, of Baltimore, in a 12-round bout here Saturday, it was agreed that the commission should name the referee and judges, the two boxers and promoters agreeing to stand by the commission's choice.

Kilbane first objected to the appointment of Harry Erle, who refereed the Dempsey-Carpenter bout, and then to Ed Smith, Chicago referee. Walter C. Kelly, of Buffalo, was then chosen.

An eleventh hour objection was taken by the champion to the appointment of Sam Hall, Chicago, and Richard Guy, Pittsburgh, newspapermen as judges. Two local men were then substituted.

Chairman Gave In.

"I felt that Kilbane was sincere in his assertion that he would not enter the ring," Wilder said. "There were some 15,000 spectators on hand and I felt, rather than disappoint them, someone had to give in. I felt that Kilbane, by his actions, has eliminated all rights to further consideration for future bouts in Cleveland. No boxer is so big that he can refuse to obey the rules of the boxing commission."

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 19.—Johnny Kilbane is gray haired, 32 years old and has a look of age around his eyes, but he is still the world's featherweight champion.

The Cleveland veteran, defending his championship for the first time in five years, knocked out Danny Frush, of Baltimore, a challenger ten years younger, in the seventh round of a scheduled twelve-round contest Saturday. The match was fought in the Cleveland American League Park before a crowd of 22,000 which paid approximately $100,000 to watch Kilbane, who has been the title holder for nine years.

Wild and Woolly Affair.

The fight developed into one of the roughest and most exciting contests ever staged in the featherweight division. It came near being ended in the first round when Kilbane hit Frush in the groin with his knee in retaliation for a punch Frush had landed low.

Kilbane, face reddened with left jab, protested to the referee, W. C. Kelly, who paid no attention. As he felt into a clinch, Kilbane brought his knee up sharply and Frush fell. The referee allowed him to lay. Kelly said to the crowd:

"I am not going to let this fight end in a fluke. You come to see a fight and you're going to see one."

Kilbane staggered. Kelly then ordered Frush's handlers to carry him to his corner and after a minute's rest the second round started. Frush carried the fight to Kilbane and staggered him with a

Yankees Back in Lead and Meet Cleveland in New York in Deciding Series

New York, Sept. 19.—The New York Giants continued their winning streak through the week-end by their victories over Pittsburgh and now have a four and a half game lead in the National League. Barring a complete form reversal, the pennant appears to be firmly in the grasp of New York.

In the American League, New York, by its victory over Detroit yesterday, while Cleveland was losing to Washington, nosed back into the League leadership by a two-point margin. The Yankees have played two games less than Cleveland and must play almost perfect ball in their remaining games to secure the flag. The four-game series to be played in New York this week between New York and Cleveland probably will decide the race.

Cleveland Going Strong.
Cleveland won all seven of its games during the week, excluding yesterday's game, while New York won only four of seven. The Indians found an unusual mark in the Athletics and New York suffered setbacks at the hands of the White Sox, the Browns and the Red Sox.

In the National, the Giants also had a perfect week. Brooklyn slumped and so did the Braves and the Pirates. The Red Sox won a majority of their games in the American, and the Athletics lost every game played.

The week's games in both leagues were marked by heavy hitting and scoring. Cleveland counted sixty times on eighty hits and the Yankees forty-five times on sixty-eight hits. The Athletics batted well but were handicapped by poor fielding and pitching.

The Giants made forty-five runs on eighty-eight hits and their pitchers were unusually effective, being found only for four runs.

Yankees Look Good.
The New York teams are favored over their rivals for the league honors in the games to be played. In the American, the Yankees have three games to play on the road, while the Yankees have the advantage of playing most of their games at home. To date the Yankees and the Athletics have won the majority of their games against the Indians.

The Giants play the final game of their series with Pittsburgh to-day, and then will go to Chicago for two games with the Cubs. The Yankees have three games to play with Detroit before taking on Cleveland in the most trying series of the season.

"CARP" RETURNING TO U. S. IN WINTER
Will Arrive in December to Start Training for His Bout With Tommy Gibbons

New York, Sept. 19.—Georges Carpentier will come to the United States some time during December to start preparations for his light-heavyweight championship bout with Tom Gibbons, of St. Paul, Gus Wilson, the Frenchman's trainer, announced to-day.

It is probable that Carpentier again will leave the residence at Manhasset, L.I., for his training.

HAMILTON TIGERS DEFEAT WINNIPEG
Tammany Tigers Overwhelmed in First Game of Prairie Rugby Season

Winnipeg, Sept. 19.—The Hamilton Tigers signalled their appearance in the West by overwhelming the Tammany Tigers, a Winnipeg League team, by 29 to 0 in the first game of the local rugby season on Saturday. Despite the one-sided nature of the score, the Tammany were by no means so much outclassed as expected, nor were the Hamilton visitors so impressive as advance notices had led the fans to believe. The game was replete with interesting plays and proved of inestimable value to local footballers, being a splendid object lesson of open play and the snap-back system.

The brilliant fielding and running of the visitors' halfbacks featured the play. Elford, McKelvie and Crocker displayed marked ability to get through the line, but they owed their success mainly to the poor following of the Winnipeg wings, who failed entirely to get Larkin's kicks. Larkin outkicked Crocker practically throughout, but the visitors got unbroken support from his line.

The one-sided nature of the score was due to a great extent to the fact that the Tammany squad invariably went out after major points, when they might easily have scored through Larkin's booting.

In attempting to force their way over for five points, the locals forgot that three might easily be gained by drop kicking, and that one was better than none.

New Soccer Trophies Up For Competition

Daily Province Donates Cup to Take Place of McBride Shield and O. B. Allen Presents Silverware For Junior B. C. Championship; Referees Must Pass B. C. F. A. Examining Boards, Council Decides; Junior Age Limit.

Two brand new trophies will be presented to this year's senior and junior football champions of British Columbia. The Daily Province, of Vancouver, has presented a very handsome cup for the winners of the senior play-off. This cup will replace the McBride Shield, which will be turned back to the British Columbia Amateur Athletic Union. The junior trophy has been donated by O. B. Allen, of Vancouver, and should stimulate a very keen competition among the youngsters.

The news of the award of these two new trophies was made at a special meeting of the council of the British Columbia Football Association held at Nanaimo on Saturday evening. Archie Baker and Jack Sullivan, of Victoria, attended the gathering and report that the council spent many hours wrestling with important problems which have a direct bearing upon the opening of the season next month.

Rules Exactly the Same.
Mr. Baker informed the Sporting Editor of The Times this morning that the rules for the competition for the Province Cup will be exactly the same as those governing play for the McBride Shield. Each district will hold its play-off and the winners will be brought together in another play-off for the title.

In regard to the Junior League the council struck an age limit. This was deemed necessary and will be rigidly enforced in the future. Any boy who was not 18 years of age up to September 16 of this year will be eligible to play in the Junior League this winter.

Referees to be Examined.
The question of referees was thoroughly discussed and the decision was reached that the B. C. F. A. will hold its own examinations to decide whether or not referees are capable. The council refused on Saturday to accept the dictates of the British Columbia Referees' Association, which was formed last year. The fact that a referee is passed by the Referees' Association will not assure him of a place on the field. He must be qualified before being accepted.

Each district will have its own examining board. Jim Mesher, president of the Victoria and District Football Association, and Alex P. A. will be the local examining board. Any person who believes that he can handle a soccer game and would like to help the game along is asked to consult with the examining board.

Managers of local football teams are advised that all registrations of players must be made direct to the provincial secretary of the B. C. F. A. The local organizations will have nothing to do with registrations this year. Managers are informed that registrations forwarded to the secretary bearing post-marks of Friday, September 23, will enable players to appear on field the following day.

Managers are asked to note the difference which has been made this year in regard to the registration of players.

The question of Sunday football in British Columbia was discussed. The Dominion Football Association at its annual meeting refused to permit Sunday football, but the Lady Smith, Nanaimo, Cumberland and other up-land towns made it impossible to stage games on Saturday owing to the fact that the mines do not close down until 3 o'clock and that it gets dark too early to permit of games after that hour. The matter is to be further investigated.

Willie Hunter, English Champion, and T. D. Armour, Only Outsiders to Survive

St. Louis, Sept. 19.—Outside contestants for the United States amateur golf championship were reduced to two, Willie Hunter, the British champion, and T. D. Armour, of Scotland, on Saturday's elimination rounds, on the links of the St. Louis Country Club.

Of the Canadian entrants, Frank Thompson, Canadian amateur champion, Toronto, took 87 strokes, and B. Wilson, Victoria, B. C., took 89, both failing to qualify. Raymond Swift, of England, and William McKay, of Scotland, were also eliminated. The 64 survivors in the race had scores of 83 or under.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19.—Sixty-four of the best amateur golfers of the world took to-day at the St. Louis Country Club in the 36-hole qualifying round for the national amateur championship title, now held by Chick Evans for the second time.

The procession of club winners was led by no less a golfer than Willie Hunter, British champion, accompanied by H. R. Johnston, of St. Paul, the Minnesota state champion, who has scored seventy with frequency by virtue of his long drives.

GREAT FIGHT CARD FEATURES SHARKEY
Old Heavyweight Contender Appears at Crystal Theatre on Friday Night

Billy Davies is preparing a first-class card for Friday night's boxing bouts at the Crystal Theatre, which will feature the first public appearance in Victoria of Tom Sharkey, one of the greatest heavyweight contenders a score of years ago. Sharkey is to clash with his old "college" chum, Frank Slavin, the bare-knuckle fighter. The old-timers are going to step alone for four rounds, and promise that there will be no kid gloves affair. Both the veterans can take and swap punches.

A number of prominent Seattle boys will be over for the event. At Winters, the flashy 145-pounder who learned the game in Chicago, will meet Billie Renko, in the main event of the evening. Winters appeared here some months ago, being billed to mix with Sgt. Prudhomme, "Noodles" Knox substituted for Prudhomme, who was taken ill.

Patsy Clasco, who also fought here last Spring, will meet "Bud" Fitzgerald in a lightweight battle, which should prove a hot affair.

Several scrappers from the Willows stables will be on the card. "Kid" Galbraith and "Wampus" Finner are slated to move along in another lightweight clash.

Albie and Jumbo Davies, the dust-weight whirlwinds, will also show the fans how to hop about the ring.

A second bout will be put on by two stars from the Willows.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor has taken a box for the bouts.

Outsider Shows Form In Opening Handicap

Kitty Cheatham Romped Away From Jake Schas and Bassano Boy and Paid Her Few Backers $51.60 For Two-Dollar Ticket; Five Favorites Got Down In Front With Two Outsiders Grabbing Other Winnings.

Kitty Cheatham, Z. E. McGregor's game little mare, was the surprise packet on the opening card of the week's races, which got away to a good start at the Willows on Saturday afternoon. A 25 to 1 shot, Kitty Cheatham had the running practically to herself in the Opening Handicap, which carried a purse of $600.

This race attracted one of the classic fields that has ever faced a starter at the Willows. Toombeola was the public choice, with the two Parsons entries, Bassano Boy and Jake Schas on even terms as second favorites. Kitty Cheatham, owing to her inability in past races, was completely overlooked.

Ten ponies faced the barrier at the six and one-half furlong post, and as soon as the gate was sprung Kitty Cheatham flashed to the front. Toombeola was shut off and Full Moon, another outsider, challenged the fleet Kitty. Bassano Boy was unable to get up into the race. Jake Schas, given a hard ride by Williams, tried gamely to catch the leader, but Mills had the Kitty well in hand and stood off the final rush and won with a bit to spare.

Another Nice Return.
Conichon, a Gibson entry, shared the honors with Kitty Cheatham as a good payer. In the first race Toy Alond was installed as a heavy favorite, but finished unplaced. Conichon was kept in check by Murphy until entering stretch, and showed such a burst that none of the field could keep stride with him, and he finished a head in front of Mike Dixon. Conichon was a better place bet than straight. The two-dollar mutual paid but $26.90 for a nose bet, while $37.05 came to those who fancied the gelding for a place.

Top favorites lead the field homes in the second, third and fourth races, while second choices got down in front in the fifth and seventh, leaving the outsiders the first and sixth races.

Madam Hurry found the running to her liking in the second race won easily over Cancelon. Jockey Neil rode his only winner of the afternoon in the third race, when he brought Miss April Fool, the favorite, in to a splendid win over Pittsburgh. The big black could not respond to the killing drive of Neil's mount in the dying yards.

McClough suspended. Gross rode Calgary Lad, the favorite, to the wire a winner in the fourth race, although Vodka, which finished second, seemed to be running well early in the race. Calgary Lad lay second, but came up fast and secured the lead on the back stretch, and held it to finish. McClough, who was up on Vodka, was called to the judges' stand after the race and set down indefinitely for his bad ride.

Presiding Judge Herb Fullerton gave McClough to understand that such questionable tactics would never be tolerated on the Willows track. Mr. Fullerton intends to adhere to his previous statements that racing will be kept as clean as possible in this city as long as he had anything to do with it.

Like Mills was fancied for the fifth race, but he was twice shut off at the turn, when Jockey Neil tried to squeeze through. As a result Col Boyle, a consistent performer, who was the second choice, came through and stood off Miss Sedalia, an outsider, in a game race down the stretch.

Gross could not get Dr. Samuel into the running in the last race, and Baby Cal, the second choice, came through at the wire, Ruth Harrigan, a 15 to 1 shot, made the going particularly hot at stages, but could not catch the Baby.

Innovation at Spencer's, Ltd., Proves Popular With Kiddies

Scores of delighted children followed with eager interest the wonderful glimpses of "make-believe" and fairyland shown to them by the Story Lady who took up her abode at Spencer's Store on Saturday afternoon. love of national literature and authors

The stories chosen included the following: "The Shining Ship," "The Snow Drop," E. Eccleston MacKay; "Mehitable Ann," "Mother Mouse" (five numbers), "Be Happy Where You Are," "The Mouse Across the Way," "The Heart of a Little Boy," "Canavan," "The Belgium Hare," "The Little White Crow," "Autumn Leaves," Amy Campbell; "Payline Johnson," "Fuzzy-Wuzzy," M. Markwell, Winnipeg; "Littlebits," Gladys Georgeson, and "A Garden." About fifty children attended and thoroughly enjoyed the first of the series of wonder trips to Storyland.

COMMISSION PLAN RADICAL CHANGES IN POLICE FORCE

Office of Deputy Chief Will Be Abolished

Discussing the contemplated plans of the City Police Commission, which to-morrow night will meet at eight o'clock in the court room of the police station, Police Commissioner Dr. Ernest Hall made the announcement that the office of deputy chief of police will be entirely abolished from the city force. The present holder of the position, Deputy Chief Thomas Palmer, will, stated Dr. Hall, be retained in the service in another capacity, after the office is abolished.

Radical Changes.

Dr. Hall intimated further that radical changes would be made in the numbers employed on both departments of the force, but would not specify just what these changes would be, prior to the announcement which will be made to-morrow in the Police Commission meeting.

Dr. Hall announced also that the Citizens' League and the Welfare League do not dictate a policy to the Board. The provisional programme of what the Commission intend to do was read to a meeting of the Citizens' League recently, stated Dr. Hall, but merely for information and not to permit any discussion on the plans of the Board. Dr. Hall stated that he had two interviews on the changes with the Mayor, and found himself in full accord with Mayor Porter on some points of the contemplated action.

No Dictation From League.

"I wish to state explicitly that the Welfare League on no occasion met at my residence, and that the members never discussed any of the plans of the Commission. The Citizens' League, a distinct body, however, met recently and heard the provisional plans of the Commission, but not for discussion. The Citizens' League was not organized by myself, but by others, and has as its aim assisting any movement for the welfare of Victoria."

P.G.E. AGAIN CUTS FREIGHT RATES

Reduction on Lumber and Apples Follows Drop on Potatoes

P. G. E. freight rates on apples and lumber are to be reduced 20 per cent, according to an order-in-council passed by the executive council under Premier Oliver to-day.

This reduction follows the recent reduction of 15 per cent on potatoes. The reduction on lumber will apply from all points to Squamish; that on apples from Seton to Vancouver wharf.

Councillor Jack Loutet, President of the Union of B. C. Municipalities; Reeve Marmont of Coquitlam, and E. Mayor Wells Gray of New Westminster, arrived at the Parliament Buildings to-day to discuss municipal matters with the Premier. Because of the executive meeting the conference had to be postponed until to-morrow.

Walter Drinnan, T. Harnett and C. C. Carmichael, G. W. V. A., leaders of Vancouver, visited the Parliament Buildings again to-day and discussed the interest charges on loans from the Government to soldier settlers at Merville and Camp Lister. Possibility of a reduction is to be taken up by the Government.

CARIBOO CRIES FOR ROADS, SAYS CANON

Victoria Member Completes Second Trip to Interior

Canon Hinchliffe, M. P. P., is back from his second trip to the Cariboo he has made in the last month.

This time he went with W. J. Bowser, K. C., Conservative leader, and J. M. Jones, P. P. for South Okanagan. The first trip was when he went up disguised as a "bohunk" under the name of Mr. Zodok, asked for work with the construction gangs and his identity was discovered when Premier Oliver and the special legislative party arrived.

The Bowser party went from Ashcroft to Clinton, then to Quesnel and Barkerville. Canon Hinchliffe said: "Everywhere, settlers are complaining about the lack of attention to roads," said the Canon. "The main Cariboo Road to Harper's Camp was in such bad condition that it took about three hours to make sixteen miles. The road from Quesnel to Barkerville was in poor condition, although good compared with other roads."

He said settlers in the Cariboo are complaining that taxation is four to five times greater than it was ten years ago. At one place settlers were organizing a "bee" to repair roads which they claimed the Government refused to touch.

The party went into the Chilcotin country, where the Canon left them to return to Victoria to see his daughter, who is leaving for an Eastern school, while Mr. Bowser and Mr. Jones started hunting.

WILL SPEAK TWICE.

Mr. Goard, who is making a hurried trip to this coast from England, will speak under the auspices of the British Israel Association and the British Empire League on "The Awakening of Britain and Great Movements, Impending Among the Nations," in the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday and Wednesday at 8 p. m. Appropriate music will be rendered by the band in attendance.

THINKS CANADA HAS NOW MADE GRADE IN FINANCIAL AFFAIRS

Civil War. When other people were becoming discouraged, faint-hearted and selling out, these men bought in, and were ready for the rise in business.

Business To-day.

Mr. Beatty is interviewing Premier Oliver this afternoon, when the future of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and the possibility of it being linked up with the Canadian Pacific Railway at Ashcroft will be discussed.

Up until his arrival in Victoria, nothing definite concerning the P. G. E. has been before the Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. Beatty said.

D. C. Coleman, president of the E. & N. and vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, discussed Island railway questions with Mr. Beatty and H. E. Beasley, manager of the Island lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, this morning.

Announcements of improvements in Victoria and on the Island will be made from Montreal on the return of the party, Mr. Beatty said.

Interested in Hudson's Bay.

"The directors of the company, Mr. Coleman and myself consider ourselves very fortunate in being in Victoria on the occasion of this new evidence of the Hudson's Bay Company's progress and mark of confidence in the development of Vancouver Island indicated by the opening of this magnificent store," said Mr. Beatty at the luncheon at the opening.

"There is something very impressive in the steady expansion of this the oldest corporation in Canada."

"One of my earliest recollections as a law student over twenty years ago was the preparation of a petition granting 'The Gentlemen Adventurers of England' trading into Hudson's Bay the right to do business in the Province of Ontario under the statute then known as the 'Extra Provincial Companies Act'."

"In their case it was a pure technicality in order to comply with the local statute and did not involve the suggestion that their extensive charter rights were in any way insecure."

"On that occasion I had the opportunity of perusing this remarkable document, and I was impressed by its simplicity and its comprehensiveness, and in view of the period in which it was issued, I marvelled at the courage and the hardihood of those who initiated the enterprise."

"The Hudson's Bay Company possessed among its personnel at its inception men of great spirit and adventure. They have never ceased to produce strong men, strong tobacco and strong liquor."

"Undoubtedly added, 'certain lines will have to be electrified, but much preliminary work still remains to be done, and I can only say that it will be a development of the future, not of the immediate present.'"

fore 1 o'clock this afternoon to attend the luncheon there to celebrate the opening of the store.

Mr. Beatty will not go up the Island as he will return to Vancouver tomorrow morning and leave for the East by special train to-morrow afternoon.

Reduction of freight rates will help business in the West, Mr. Beatty said, and freight rates should be revised downwards just as soon as the wage situation is adjusted so that the earnings of the railroad companies warrant the reduction.

"The companies themselves have made numerous reductions in rates since the beginning of the year, all designed to take care of the necessities of individual industries and to correct inequalities which have existed," Mr. Beatty went on. "These rate adjustments will continue to be made," he said.

For the companies have taken the Canadian Pacific's necessities as the standard, but it seems to be forgotten that during 1918 and 1919 the surplus earnings of the company were taken by the government in special taxes, and in 1920 the surplus was practically negligible.

"No company can keep step with the development of the country and improve its facilities and service if there is no reasonable margin between earnings and expenses and necessary interest and dividend payments. The demand on the one hand is for increased facilities, extensions and betterments of all kinds and on the other for lower rates."

"There can be no reasonable objection to rates being lower if at the same time the earnings are sufficient to enable the company to retain a very high credit and financial strength capable of meeting all the legitimate demands which the future of the country and thus contributing to its progress to the general prosperity of the country."

Urges Changes.

"For my own part, I have always thought that blanket increases and blanket decreases are unscientific, and that when rates are revised either upward or downward it should be done on a basis that would not produce discrimination between commodities or districts. This is work which has to be very carefully done and when done the results are much more satisfactory than percentage changes in existing scales."

Electrification.

"I am considering the electrification of the C. P. R. system in British Columbia," Mr. Beatty was asked.

"Certain preliminary investigations have been made with a view to determining the power possibilities which would justify the electrification of certain portions of the mountain divisions and this work is now being proceeded with," he stated.

"Undoubtedly added, 'certain lines will have to be electrified, but much preliminary work still remains to be done, and I can only say that it will be a development of the future, not of the immediate present.'"

Notable Men in Party.

Members of the party with Mr. Beatty include the following who are all on the directorate of the C. P. R.:

Sir Herbert Holt, one of the pioneers of electrical development in Canada and president of the Montreal Light, Heat and Power Co. He is well known as president of the Royal Bank.

Sir Augustus Nanton, one of the heads of the Hudson's Bay Co., president of the Manitoba Carriage Co., director of the Winnipeg Street Railway, director of the Dominion Bank, director of the Toronto General Trusts Corporation and other big financial enterprises.

Sir John G. Macdonald, noted counsel in Quebec, who gained fame for his skill in fighting cases before the Privy Council in England and as a member of the Royal Commission in the famous Whelan case in 1890.

E. W. Beatty.

Edward Wentworth Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was born at Thorold, Ontario, in 1876. He moved to Toronto with his parents when he was ten years of age. He studied in Toronto at the Model School, Upper Canada College, Harbord Street Collegiate Institute, and the University of Toronto.

Mr. Beatty entered the service of the C. P. R. as assistant to the General Counsel; in July, 1905, he became Assistant Solicitor; in 1910, he was General Solicitor; in 1912, he became Chief Counsel and Vice-President. He succeeded Lord Shaugnessy as President of the C. P. R. in 1918. Mr. Beatty takes great interest in Canadian education, and in addition to being one of the governors of McGill University, is Chancellor of Queen's University, Kingston. He takes a prominent part in many public movements, such as the Navy League.

Mr. Beatty is the first Canadian born president of the C. P. R. During his entire career he has been noted for his sound knowledge of human affairs. He is beloved by those who are associated with him, and by those who work under him. In every respect he is a worthy successor of the great men who preceded him, as president of the C. P. R.

SECRET IS OUT.

"Why does a woman's hat cost so much more than a man's? Surely, the trimming can't account for more than a fraction of the difference."

"Certainly not, but you must remember that it costs more to sell a hat to a woman. A man seldom takes up more than two minutes of the salesman's time, while a woman will keep the entire sales staff busy for half a day."

RAILWAY SHOPMEN OBJECT TO CUT

But No Wage Strike in U. S. Until Rules Stated

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Railroad employees throughout the country today received official announcement that railroad shopmen belonging to the six federated shop crafts unions have voted to strike against the general reduction of rates which the general railroad wage reduction of July 1 last, but will defer action pending promulgation of working rules now pending before the United States Railroad Labor Board.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Railroad shopmen belonging to the six federated shop crafts unions have voted to strike against the general reduction of rates which the general railroad wage reduction of July 1 last, but will defer action pending promulgation of working rules now pending before the United States Railroad Labor Board.

This announcement was officially made by B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts unions, at a meeting of the Chicago shop workers Sunday.

Mr. Jewell and other union speakers counselled the men to wait until the entire wage and rules situation was before them, rather than rush into a strike which, Mr. Jewell declared, the railroad managements desired.

Majority.

The strike vote, completed August 1, was announced as showing a majority against the wage reduction which went into effect July 1. This was the first official confirmation of the result which has been rumored for some time.

Condemnation of the operation of the Labor Board and of its decisions was voiced by all speakers at the meeting. Mr. Jewell charged that the railroads were attempting to use the Board to take an unfair advantage of the industrial situation.

The local boards of authority for relief are promised British Treasury assistance mainly in the reduction of interest rates on loans from the Government. These local boards, which are definitely and directly responsible for relief, say this assistance will provide only enough work to touch the margin of the huge unemployment in the United Kingdom. Nevertheless it is evident that the volume of unemployment is slowly decreasing.

Ridiculous.

J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, has again declared that a general strike as advocated in some quarters would be ridiculous and other kinds of social upheaval would be equally absurd. Mr. Thomas declares that the problem of unemployment is an international one and requires international solution.

Must Go.

The opinion is growing that the Government labor exchanges instituted by Winston Churchill twelve years ago must disappear. They cost £2,350,000 yearly. When a man grows weary of waiting around the exchange and then is struck off the register, it is asserted, the exchange invariably returns him as having found a job. It has been estimated that each job found by the exchanges costs the taxpayer about £20 in expenses.

Unemployment Programme in Britain is Criticized

London, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—The social program Premier Lloyd George for relieving the unemployment in England has aroused criticism, not because it is wrong in principle but on account of its inadequacy.

IMPORTER'S LIFEBOAT ON VIEW AT FAIR

Historic Craft Will Be Shown in Home Products Building

Home Products displays play a big part in the Exhibition which opened at the Willows this morning, and George I. Warren, who is again in charge of this feature, has furnished an extra attraction which is of great interest to the crowds which throng the building in which the local manufactures are exhibited.

The feature in question is the lifeboat of the SS. Canadian Importer, which for about a month drifted at the mercy of the Pacific, and covered a distance of 1,000 miles on September 14, when it was rescued by the U. S. Navy.

The lifeboat exhibit was made possible through the courtesy of Captain Finglass, marine superintendent of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, and officers of the SS. Canadian Importer. The display is being made under the auspices of the Victoria Branch of the Navy League of Canada, P. A. Rayner in charge.

Cadet Robert Newell who was with the ship and who was rescued by the U. S. Navy, will be with the boat during the exhibition.

Mr. Warren and the Home Products exhibitors deserve great credit for the splendid display and their arrangement in the big building, which is attractively decorated, and music will be furnished throughout the week.

There are about seventy local products displayed and in addition to this feature of the exhibition, the same building contains the school exhibitions and the arts display.

The opinion is growing that the Government labor exchanges instituted by Winston Churchill twelve years ago must disappear. They cost £2,350,000 yearly. When a man grows weary of waiting around the exchange and then is struck off the register, it is asserted, the exchange invariably returns him as having found a job. It has been estimated that each job found by the exchanges costs the taxpayer about £20 in expenses.

The musical numbers are bright and catchy, the entire play is one with a complete plot to it and is filled with laughter throughout. TWO NOTABLE STARS IN FILM

Drama of the Circus Unfolded at Columbia

Beginning to-day at the Columbia Theatre, Gladys Walton will be seen in that screen classic "Pink Tights," a story of the circus, a picture well suited to the youth, beauty and vivacity of the star.

Featured with Gladys Walton in this picture is Jack Perrin, and as Jack Perrin is a tall, handsome and immensely athletic gentleman, his wonderful personality is an excellent foil for that of the little star, who is so serious and earnest about the cultivation of her health and athletic tendencies.

"LYING LIPS" IS NOTABLE DRAMA

House Peters Admirably Suited to Rugged Role at Variety Theatre

Hardship, adversity, dealing with Nature in the raw, overcoming obstacles, have all been part of the life of House Peters who is co-starred with Florence Vidor in the Thomas H. Ince drama "Lying Lips," which comes to the Variety Theatre to-day. This is the second Ince picture to be released through the Associated Producers and much interest therefore attaches to it.

House Peters is one of the few screen actors of to-day who could successfully portray the role of Blair Cornwall, in this thrilling story from the pen of Mary Edington and which was adapted to the screen by Bradley King. The type revealed in "Lying Lips" is that of a rugged, big souled, courageous Canadian, unafraid of hardships and adventure. The ordinary screen hero accustomed to doing the usual society or business man role could not hope to portray it. It calls for a special type and House Peters is unquestionably that type. It was for that reason that Thomas H. Ince secured him for this picture, opportunities in his spectacular career.

House Peters has lived and battled with obstacles in all corners of the globe. He has hunted diamonds on the blinding African desert. He has lain for days on the veldt during the Boer War, rifle in hand, with only Kaffir corn as his food. What he has been through shows in his powerful, dominant personality; the lines of character in his face, his aggressive, confident manner. It is in the shipwreck scenes in "Lying Lips" that his strong personality shines at its best.

Here is the type of staunch, rugged manhood to which a spoiled darling of society, faced with Death, would cling in desperation. That's what beautiful Florence Vidor does—and what happens is the plot of this amazingly interesting story, described as Thomas H. Ince's best effort since "Civilization."

"WILD WOMEN" IS SUPERB PICTURE

Capitol Shows Society Drama; Other Features

Ethel Clayton's latest superb Paramount production will be the feature attraction at the Capitol for the entire week, starting to-night.

Mary McLeod, a young artist, goes to a cabaret to seek a type for a drawing of "Wild Women." There she is attracted by Phillip Dominick, a dashing young millionaire whose exploits are daring. Some weeks later Mary is aboard a train enroute home. She discovers her pocketbook has been left behind. Dominick represents himself to the conductor as her brother—and she takes his drawing room for the night while Phillip retires to the smoking car.

A romance develops which ends in marriage. Mrs. Dominick, upon whom Phillip is dependent for money, detests the match, determines to break it off and marry her son to a wealthy society girl. Come yourself to see "WILD WOMEN"—you'll have the happiest hour and one of the biggest thrills you ever had at any photodrama. Take our word for it—this is a real picture!

Rely on Cuticura To Clear Away Skin Troubles

begs Phillip to leave. A child is born, however, and Mrs. Dominick, her motherly instincts aroused, begs them to stay on. Despite careful nursing, the child dies.

A misunderstanding, due to a trip of Phillip's to the woods, leads Mary to leave the Dominick home and return to her studio. Phillip on his return hears of his wife's desertion. He tells his mother that her money had been a curse to him and leaves to join his wife!

Billie and Leona Hacker, the terpsichorean artists who scored a triumph at the Capitol last week, are engaged to stay one more week.

AT ROYAL TO-NIGHT

PERCY AND JULIE

appearing in "Mademoiselle of Armentieres" at the Royal Victoria Theatre to-night and to-morrow.

RETRIBUTION TO BE THEME AT ROYAL

Sumptuous Scenes in "The Child Thou Gavest Me"

The echo of the wedding bells had not died away when the happy benedict hurried up to his bride's room. There he saw her, still wearing her veil and gown, clasping a child in her arms.

With faltering lips, she told him the truth. The child was her son. What would any man do if confronted with such a situation?

"The Child Thou Gavest Me," produced by John M. Stahl for Associated Producers, National Pictures, Inc. and which can be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre, starting Wednesday, will show you what the bridegroom did—and his solution of the odd problem will amaze and startle you.

"The Child Thou Gavest Me" is a story of force and power, with a plot so unique that it will set tongues wagging. It illustrates the manner in which the savage inner man creeps to the surface under trying circumstances, notwithstanding the degree of refinement attained heretofore.

The wedding scene in the picture is a sumptuous one, and a small fortune was spent in making the set.

Oriental rugs to the value of $20,000 and priceless pieces of furniture being used to give it the proper atmosphere. And to make certain that all of the details of the marriage ceremony would be correct, the producer obtained the assistance of a prominent Los Angeles minister, who spent a day at the studio, supervising the filming of the nuptials.

It is a society wedding, and the gowns worn in the scene will prove a delight to feminine eyes. When the knot has been tied the guests prepare to bombard the happy couple with rice and old shoes. But they do not get the opportunity. They are unaware of the tragedy that is unfolding in the chamber upstairs; and unaware that retribution was beginning to claim its own.

"OUT OF THE FOLD"

TO BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Two New Players Will Be Introduced at Princess

Beginning Wednesday night at the Princess Theatre, the Mildred Page Players will present "Out of the Fold," a beautiful rural comedy drama with a different kind of part than anything she has yet played since the long, successful engagement began at the Princess.

"Out of the Fold" will serve to introduce two new players to the Princess patrons. Mr. Harry Leeland, who from now on will act as stage director for the company, will be seen as the shepherd, a beautiful character which suits Mr. Leeland exceptionally well. Miss Vivian Moore, the other new member of the company, will have a beautiful character to portray, Mrs. Larkin, with a kindly, motherly heart, is sure to win many friends for Miss Moore.

Byron Aldenn, as the schoolmaster, is appearing in one of his former successes, and the part is one well suited to Mr. Aldenn and has already proved a splendid vehicle for him.

"Out of the Fold" will begin Wednesday, September 21, and continue four days. The Bean Guessing contest is still on for the little folks. Send your guesses early.

Just to show his versatility, Earle Williams played the part of a fugitive from justice in the Canadian Northwest—but a member of the Royal Mounted was on his trail and "got him" in the end. This is the stirring

"I have found the man!" But the wife who had wed with a lie on her lips denied him. And she told a story that brings a climax as yet unparalleled in photodramatic denouement. See for Yourself.

FRENCH THIRD DEGREE

How Criminals Are Forced to Admit Their Guilt.

In this country every man is innocent until he has been proved guilty. The French, however, do these things differently; with them, if the evidence is strong enough to warrant a man's arrest, he is regarded as guilty, and it is for him to clear himself of the charge if he can.

The accused man is handed over to an official called the Juge d'Instruction, or Examining Magistrate, whose business is to obtain evidence for the prosecution.

The prisoner is visited daily by the judge, who asks, by asking him sudden and unexpected questions, to obtain an unguarded answer that will serve to incriminate him.

Very few guilty persons can hold out for long against an inquiry of this kind. The innocent by the answers he gives; the criminal usually gives himself away.

Sometimes no amount of ordinary questioning will obtain an admission from the accused. When this happens a different method is employed. He is confronted with people believed to be his accomplices.

"I know how you got rid of the body," says the judge; "you and Charles Dubois threw it into the pond."

"I do not know Dubois," answered the prisoner.

The judge raises his hand; a door opens, and in a moment the accused is face to face with the man in question. If they know each other their faces are bound to show mutual recognition.

The prisoner, if guilty, is now on the horns of a dilemma; Dubois is certain to have been interrogated and the accused has no means of knowing what kind of answers he has given. As a rule he will incriminate himself very quickly.

Hardened criminals, however, may pass successfully even through this ordeal. Then the judge calls to his aid the most powerful piece of legal procedure ever devised; he reconstructs the tragedy.

One day the prisoner receives an order to quit his cell and to accompany a police officer. He finds himself outside the house where the crime was committed.

He is taken to the room in which the victim was murdered. Outside the door the judge awaits him.

"I am going to show you," says he, "just how your killed Annette LeFevre. She was sitting at the table when you came in."

The door opens; at the table is sitting a girl.

"Watch," says the judge. A man enters made up as the prisoner, and so like him that he cannot repress a start. He speaks roughly to the girl and in a moment the two are engaged in a violent quarrel. The whole grim tragedy that he has tried so hard to forget is being enacted once more before the prisoner's horrified eyes. Suddenly the mock criminal draws from his belt a knife—no other than the weapon with which the deed was done; there is a realistic struggle; the knife rises and falls; the victim screams and sinks in a heap upon the floor.

And what of the prisoner? From his lips pours a torrent of words. "Yes, yes," he cries, "I cannot keep it up. I am guilty. I killed her."

Though we may not like these methods, there can be no doubt that they are effective. It is a rare thing for a criminal to escape the consequences of his crime. The cleverest counsel will avail him nothing if his own conscience convicts him.

A SAD BLOW.

The Newbreds have a home in the suburbs and Mrs. N. was relating her disappointment with her garden to a sympathetic caller. "We did hope to have luck with our tomatoes," he said, "but even those failed us."

"What was the trouble?" "Tour know there are several kinds of tomatoes and we thought we had planted the red kinds, and now those horrid old tomato bushes are just covered with green ones, which we don't want at all, as we never eat pickles."—Boston Transcript.

AUDIENCE LAUGHS AS PLAYERS WEEP

Full House Delighted With Initial Presentation of "Niobe" at Little Theatre

Mingled with prolonged bursts of laughter from the audience, tears flowed in abundance on Saturday night at the Little Theatre, Oak Bay Avenue, the capacity house greeting the opening performance of "Niobe" laughing themselves almost to dissolution over troubles besetting an intensely money-minded insurance agent when a beautiful Greek marble statue of Niobe comes to life.

Billed as a farcical comedy, no better description of the play can be given, and the rendition is a triumph for the Victoria Dramatic and Operatic Society.

Maintains Reputation.

As has become almost a matter of course, R. N. Hincks has again exhibited almost uncanny skill in the manner with which he has made his selection from the Society's membership, the cast presenting the entertainment carrying their respective parts with an innate naturalness.

Remarkable Artistry.

John McCallum plays the part of Peter Amos Dunn, and scores a histrionic triumph. Practical to the extreme, with the motto "There's no money in it" as his guiding taboo, he is subjected to the incredible experience of seeing Niobe come to life. Naturally believing no one will accept such an explanation of the presence of a strange woman in his home, he resorts to subterfuge and promptly makes matters worse. So skilled is the presentation by Mr. McCallum that the audience at times forgot the play and entered to the full into sympathy with his nervous excitability, at one time breaking into a burst of applause in the middle of a scene.

Beautiful Niobe.

For the statuesque and altogether lovely Niobe, Mr. Hincks selected Miss Gladys Thorpe, and so scored another triumph. With a voice as clear as a bell, an enunciation of remarkable beauty only equalled by her physical perfection, Miss Thorpe was Niobe to the full, even her restrained lack of vivacity being true to the part.

Miss L. Ringland takes the part of Caroline Dunn, her ability to weep with realism being often in demand as she sees her husband in the role of a villain, only too strongly thrown up by the eager efforts of her horde of relatives, headed by sister Helen Griffin, well played, with a necessary squeezed lemon effect, by Mrs. W. McMicking. The real thing in selfishness is portrayed by Capt. H. R. W. Allen, in the part of Corney Griffin, a youth with an inordinate self-love and a past of somewhat lurid character. Then there is Hattie Griffin, a flapper of flappered future, and his departure with the radiant Niobe dries the tears on the lashes of the weeping wife.

Other Characters.

Eventually the tangle is unravelled through the belated arrival of the owner of the statue, Hamilton Thompson, as played by W. J. Cobbe, and an enthusiast of archaeology. He vows the women of to-day are not good enough for him, and the revitalization of his marble Niobe was therefore very much to his joy. His exposure of a scandal in the past of the hitherto dominant Helen Griffin assured Dunn a peaceful future, and his departure with the radiant Niobe dries the tears on the lashes of the weeping wife.

Mrs. John Hudson has an important minor part in the lines of Mary, the domestic; W. B. Breden and T. E. Clark are natural in minor characters, while Miss Doris Harper and Miss J. Choate are excellent in the short appearances they are called upon to make.

X-RAY DOUBTED AS CANCER CURE BY RADIOLOGISTS

Erlangen School Claimed Recovery From One Application

London, Sept. 1 (By Mail).—The following statement has been issued by the Council of the British Association for the Advancement of Radiology and Physiotherapy, a body of medical men which includes the great majority of radiologists in London and elsewhere:

In view of the publicity that has been given to radiotherapy in the treatment of cancer by the publication of laudatory articles in the medical and lay press, and the extraordinary claims that have been put forward by the authorities of the West London Hospital, it seems advisable that a considered statement be made. The treatment referred to has not yet been thoroughly tested. It possesses great potential dangers, and may not prove as efficacious as the claims now made would suggest. In the nature of the case, however, no certainty can be arrived at for some years. The unwarranted laudation of this change in technique will probably lead to a reaction and bring discredit upon X-ray treatment in general.

The claim put forward by the Erlangen school is that by means of their special method it is possible to administer a dose of X-rays which will cure cancer in one application. This claim is commented on as follows by a leader-writer in the Lancet of July 2, 1921:

"It will be seen that the suggestion in the lay press that cases of malignant disease should go to the radiologist immediately the diagnosis is made, and before operation, is based on the observation of competent observers. There is little doubt that the time has come for us to reconsider our position in dealing with the situation."

Not First Choice.

This, we regard as a most ill-advised pronouncement, and we emphatically disagree with the conclusions expressed. The time has not yet come when radiotherapy may be regarded as the first choice in the treatment of the majority of cases of cancer.

We believe that, of any single method, surgery still offers the best prospect of cure in nearly all cases

A Paramount Picture

A William D. Taylor Production

A drama of the carefree life of New York's Greenwich village. Of the mad, futile life of New York millionaires. . . . And the finer, truer life that a young girl found, when she gave up wealth and fame, and sought love.

of cancer, and that until much more convincing proof of the efficacy of X-rays or other form of radiation is forthcoming it would be extremely dangerous to encourage patients to trust to X-ray treatment alone for the cure of these very serious conditions. The possibility of successful surgical intervention ought to be in each particular case, fully discussed.

We are, however, of the opinion that a closer co-operation between the surgeon and the radiologist would lead to a clearer appreciation of the value of radiation in treatment, and that in all cases both surgery and radiation therapy should be fully considered, with a view to making the fullest use of both. Combined treatment offers the greatest hope of success.

The methods employed in this country up to the present have given promising results. They have been worked out for use in conjunction with surgery, and it would be unwise to abandon them before we are assured that the more intensive form of treatment will give the patient an increase of favorable chances. It should be clearly stated that radiologists in this country have, during the past few years, so far perfected their technique that the risk of any injury to the patient is now assured, provided that his treatment is under the direction of a medical man of wide experience in this class of work.

The matter is receiving the most serious consideration and the public may rest assured that the prospects held out by the more drastic procedure prove to be better than those offered by existing methods. Full advantage will be taken of it in this country.

Real Contribution.

In our opinion the real contribution to progress on the part of the Erlangen school is that they have employed in suitable quantities X-rays of a higher penetration than that hitherto used, and have also carefully system-atized already known methods of measuring dosage. Whether or not these rays ultimately prove superior in all cases to those of less penetration, this is an achievement for which they will always be entitled to credit.

It is unnecessary to import the apparatus from Germany, several firms in this country are now making the requisite equipment, so that difficulty of obtaining plant will not be a bar to research.

In conclusion, we wish to say once more how much it is to be regretted that hasty opinions on medical matters should be given wide publicity. Such pronouncements, unless authoritatively traversed, could not fail to be harmful to the future of radiology, in that they raise the hopes which are far from certain of realization. X-rays have already relieved suffering and prolonged active life in thousands of cancer victims. They have even effected a few apparent cures, and their value in helping to prevent return after operation is now generally recognized. It would, therefore, be neither more nor less than a calamity if public disappointment from unfulfilled promises were to bring discredit on radiation therapy, which is in reality a powerful agent in the warfare against disease.

SIR SAM HUGHES

Only Seven Years Ago He Was Most Spectacular Figure on Continent.

(From the Philadelphia Inquirer.)

It is a little hard for some of us to hark back seven years and remember when the late Sir Sam Hughes was the most spectacular figure in the western world. He was Munitions Minister in Canada when the world war broke out and conceived it to be his duty to aid the Dominion regardless of any other consideration. For a considerable time he was a despot. He gave orders, spent money, knocked convention and the laws in the head—and sent troops to France in record time.

Much as we pride ourselves on the way in which we got into the war game, it must be said that Canada beat us to it simply because the Man of the Hour was on deck. When military officers said a thing could not be done, he ordered others to do it in defiance of custom—and it was done. For red-tape he had contempt, for military routine he had no consideration whatever. If a thing ought to be done he did it. If money had to be spent, he spent it even when he had not a cent. The Princess Patricia's Light Infantry was his pet.

DECLARES HE FEELS TEN YEARS YOUNGER

Vancouver Man Finds Relief After Being Crippled Six Years With Rheumatism

"I never felt better in my life than I do now, and Tanlac deserves the credit," said Wm. R. Holovatsky, 132 Higgins Street, Vancouver, B.C. "I was crippled up with rheumatism for six years, and when I began taking Tanlac my right leg was so stiff I could hardly walk, and my arms hurt me so that I had to call in help to put on my clothes. My stomach was all upset too."

"All of my troubles are gone now, thanks to Tanlac. The fact is I'm not only in tip-top shape, but I feel ten years younger, ten years healthier and ten years stronger."

went over immediately some 1,800 strong and only 16 came back.

In a few months he had 100,000 Canadians in France and 75,000 more in local training camps—many of whom were American boys who could not wait our entrance. He pushed things to the limit. He fed his men better than any other soldiers in the history of the world. He was arrogant and he was hated. He was efficient and he was criticized.

The time came when he fell under the ban of officialdom. Conservatism ruled in high places and he disappeared as a great factor in the war. Charges were brought against him of every kind except that he had served the Dominion, the Empire, and Humanity. He was content. He did his bit. He has passed on. About this time he must be in a position to review his career with satisfaction.

When the history of Canada is finally written Sir Sam Hughes will have a place in the Temple of Fame which need not be recorded in letters of gold, since it will be in the hearts of his countrymen.

LONESOME TOWN.

Have you ever lived in Lonesome Town?

With nobody there but yourself. And a lot of dusty memories. Like library books on a shelf. Where your spectral past will grin at you. As you shiver, and cringe, and quail. And tell you all the mistakes you've made. And boast that it knew you would fail?

A weary old town is Lonesome Town. As lone as lone can be. I hate the smell of the dusty place. Like library books on a shelf. I need the touch of a loving hand. And a sky that is always blue. With laughter and love for company. And a pal—who is just like you.

ENGINE ROOM OF STEAMER IMPORTER NOW PUMPED DRY

Cause of Flooding of Hold at Sea Still Remains a Puzzle

The engine room of the Canadian Importer has been pumped dry and still there is no indication of the cause of the leak which so nearly resulted in the loss of the ship. There is still seven feet of water in the after hold but it is claimed that no water is now entering the stoke hold. The general impression along the waterfront favors the theory that rivets were started with the working of the ship when at sea.

No defect was reported as a result of the examination of the ship's hull by divers.

Clear to Tween Decks.

At mid-day to-day all the lumber to the depth of the tween decks has been taken out, and the ship has righted herself. The entire cargo will be removed, and even the bunker coal will be taken out, before the Canadian Importer is put in drydock. Another week will in all probability elapse before the ship is ready to be floated into the Equilmalt graving basin.

The lumber is being stored in the big warehouse at Pier 2, Ogden Point. The cargo will either await the completion of repairs to the Canadian Importer, or will be shipped to Australia by another vessel.

CANADIAN SCOTTISH TO LOAD BUNKERS

First Big Ship Built at Prince Rupert Passed Up Gulf Yesterday

The C. G. M. M. steamship Canadian Scottish, first of two steel freighters to be completed at Prince Rupert by the Wallace organization, passed up to Nanaimo yesterday for bunkers from the Columbia River, where she has been loading part cargo for Australia. The Canadian Scottish was launched at Prince Rupert May 12, and during her official trials last month she set up an average of 14 knots. From Nanaimo the Canadian Scottish will shift to Vancouver to complete loading. She is scheduled to sail from Vancouver on October 15 for Auckland, Sydney and Melbourne. B. Mantrap, of the Government hull and boiler inspection, who has just returned from the North, says the Canadian Scottish is a very fine vessel.

Transporter. The SS. Canadian Transporter, the most recent Government ship to be turned out at the Coughlin yards at Vancouver, is fixed to load for New Zealand and Australia, sailing in November.

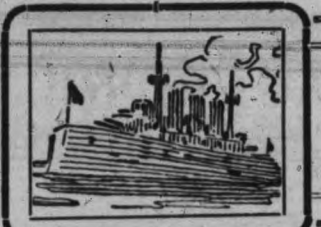

BIG TUNA TOWED VANDERBILT PARTY SIX AND HALF MILES

Liverpool, N.S., Sept. 19.—W. K. Vanderbilt, New York financier, was towed six and a half miles out to sea here the other day by a big fish. The finny monster—species tuna—which must have weighed about five hundred pounds, judging by the half outside the international limit, was towed by a line and a mile from land. Here the gods of the deep played trump and jamming Mr. Vanderbilt's line allowed him to drop the hook on a slack and sail away—a wisecrack.

The Knickerbocker disciples of Isaac Walton ran in further hard luck the same day, when Mr. Baxter hooked another big fish and lost him with three hundred yards of valuable line. However, they were satisfied with the sport and Mr. Vanderbilt, who came here in his yacht Eagle especially to get a tuna, says he is coming back again next year.

PROVISIONING SHIP IS GIGANTIC TASK

Empress of Russia Carries Supplies to Accommodate Passengers for Month

An idea of the stupendous task of provisioning a ship like the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Russia, which left port last week for the Orient, is given in statistics compiled by W. J. Mylett, superintendent of the Trans-Pacific catering department. Following is a list of food stuffs required for a round trip of this palatial ship: Beef, 50,000 pounds; pork, 17,000 pounds; mutton, 7,000 pounds; lamb, 3,000 pounds; veal, 2,000 pounds; ham, 3,000 pounds; fish, 25,000 pounds; vegetables, 70,000 pounds; potatoes, 25,000 pounds; sugar, 5,000 pounds; salt, 4,000 pounds; coffee, 1,000 pounds; tea, 600 pounds; eggs, 70,000 pounds; oatmeal, 2,000 pounds; milk, 1,000 gallons; flour, 100 barrels; apples, 175 cases; biscuits, 1,000 pounds; oranges, 200 cases; turkeys, 350; game, 2,300; capons, 700; ducks, 850; fowl, 900; geese, 200; broilers, 1,700. These are the principal items, but there is also the emergency stock which has to be kept up and renewed from time to time.

Refrigeration on the Empress of Russia is the last word in efficiency, for instance the temperature is lowered by a gas plant and all perishables are kept 24 to 25 degrees F., assuring food free from taint at all times and under all conditions. There are separate refrigerators for fish, meats, poultry, cheese, milk and butter, fruit, vegetables and in fact every different kind of goods that require reduced temperature.

ALICE TO REMAIN ON ALASKA ROUTE UNTIL NEXT MONTH

The Fall schedule of the C. P. R. coast steamship service provides for the retention of the steamship Princess Alice on the Alaska route until the end of October. The Princess Alice will make four more trips to Skagway, sailing from this port September 23, October 7, October 18 and October 28. Commencing November 11 the steamship Princess Mary will maintain a semi-monthly schedule throughout the winter.

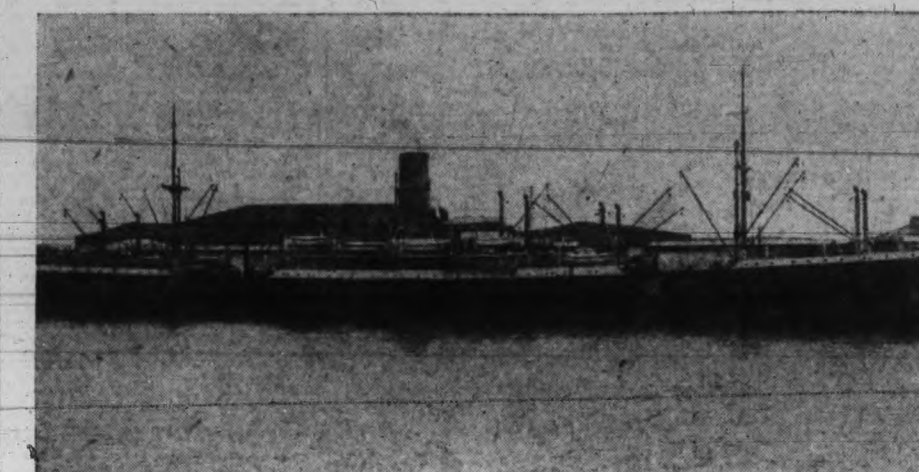

ANTARCTIC SHIP, FORMERLY WHALER, IS SMALL VESSEL

The Shackleton-Rowett Antarctic expedition ship Quest was formerly a Norwegian whaler. She is 125 feet long and 13 1/2 feet in depth, with a gross tonnage of 200 tons. She is fitted with compound steam engines of 250 indicated horsepower. The Quest will carry a seaplane for air patrol work. She is rather smaller than the Terra Nova and other vessels previously used for Antarctic expeditions.

GIRL DRIVES GOLF BALL 425 FEET ON BOARD LINER

New Sport Device is Popular Among Passengers by S.S. Silver State

For the first time on the Pacific Ocean the game of shipboard golf was introduced aboard the Admiral liner Silver State on Saturday with a mechanical device calculated to keep deviations of the famous outdoor sport in practice during the long voyage to the Orient.

This device was installed on the top or main boatdeck of the Silver State at the instance of E. G. McClellan, passenger traffic manager for the Pacific Steamship Company, and Miss Evelyn Rusk, of Seattle, bound for the Orient, was the first person to essay this game.

In the centre of the expansive deck is anchored the apparatus to which is attached the golf ball attached to a strong wire. The ball is placed on a tee, as in a regular game, and the golfer swings as in the real game. The device registers the distance of the drive, and from this is calculated the scores possible. Miss Rusk, on testing off, drove the ball which was much better than could be accomplished on first trial by her.

The interest displayed by the passengers in this innovation promises to make the new game one of the most popular amusements on the liner during the voyage. The Admiral Line is now arranging to install the device on the steamships Wenatchee, Keystone State and Bay State.

DRYDOCK CRIB IS LAUNCHED TO-DAY

The first of the concrete timber cribs built by Yarrows, Ltd., for the substitution of the Esquimaux drydock wharf, was launched this afternoon from the Lang Cove plant.

Simultaneously with the launching of the first crib, a second, partially completed, was lowered down the ways. A start will be made immediately on the third of the five cribs to be constructed.

NEWFOUNDLAND HIT BY U. S. TARIFF

Ottawa, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press)—According to advices here, the recent tariff enactment of the United States, under which fishermen and manufacturers of fish products receive greater protection, is reacting seriously upon Newfoundland. In round figures Newfoundland purchases one-third of her products from the United States and looks to that market for the disposition of about 15 per cent. of her exports. This market would appear to be destroyed under the new tariff and Newfoundland's ability to pay for American commodities will be materially handicapped.

WOMEN DEVELOPING

Better Insurance Risks Now Than They Are Discarding Corsets, Doctors Say.

Baltimore, Sept. 19.—That women who do not wear corsets are far better insurance risks than those who do, is the opinion of women doctors in Baltimore. In fact, not a woman doctor could be found who favored corsets worn at all tightly.

Not only did women physicians think that life is prolonged by women who discard corsets, but many were of the opinion that women are developing endurance and muscular activity almost equal to men's by discarding their waist armor.

Dr. Anna S. Abercrombie, who is industrial physician to a number of large enterprises employing many women in Baltimore, and who was in charge of a recent summer camp for women and girls, said that the difference in activity and endurance between women who do and those who do not wear corsets was marked.

"In choosing women employees at the concern in which I am the attending physician, we are very careful in selecting from the physical point of view. We never pass a woman who is tightly laced," said Dr. Abercrombie.

Dr. Mary Mead Dean joined with Dr. Abercrombie in her denunciation of corsets.

"While I have not made any great study as to whether women who do not wear corsets make better insurance risks, I believe that it is true," said Dr. Dean. "There is no question that corsets retard the circulation of the blood, decrease the lung capacity and cause the muscles of the abdomen to lose their tone."

"The corsets that most women wear to-day, however, are not much more than girdles and are infinitely superior to the old-fashioned kind. I do not think that women will ever go back to the tightly laced corset. Women have much more independent minds since the war and are not going to be so easily dictated to."

SCIENCE FAILS TO HELP GIRL

Child Ceased Growing When Placed in Cellar and Facul- ties Disappeared

Chicago, Sept. 19.—Medical science, which, in the past few years, has been able to perform so many miracles, admitted to-day that it is unable to undo in a few months what has been wrought in nearly a score of years, and because of this Marie Zumbach, 17-year-old girl found in the basement of a house on the outskirts of Joliet, will have to end her days in the condition in which she was found, a child of six in mind and body.

Marie Zumbach was born in Joliet. For the first two months of her life she appeared as any other normal child. But one day her mother conceived the idea her daughter was "skin to the devil," and her belief led her literally to bury Marie in a room in the basement of the home.

For years the child lived in the prison, never seeing the light of day, never getting a breath of fresh air, and subsisting on semi-fluid food only. Her body grew to an uncanny shape, but her mind never developed past the normal age of six years.

Finally some one heard of the case and notified the health authorities. The girl was rescued from the dungeon. She was unable to see, hear, or talk, and was at the lowest level of an idiot.

Medical science endeavored to aid her. They arranged for a place where the best possible care could be taken of the child and proceeded to experiment with glands and other means of bringing the girl up to normality.

Dr. Sigmund Krumholz, professor of neurology at Northwestern University, took charge of the case. He transplanted thyroid glands obtained from a monkey. For a while the girl appeared to improve and more glands were transplanted. Other operations were performed, and the medical world sat back to wait for the result.

To-day, exactly one year after the girl was brought into daylight, Dr. Krumholz was forced to admit the case was hopeless.

Are You a Born Advertiser?

Certain merchants get a reputation for being born advertisers.

They may have earned the reputation. They were not born that way. Their particular genius has lain in the fact that, having marvelous faith in the power of Daily Newspaper Advertising, they went ahead with it regardless of immediate results.

They had courage. And the courageous advertiser gets the greatest rewards.

There are those whose temperament is not suited to Napoleonic tactics. Neither will their product or pocket-book permit them to use these tactics even if they were so inclined.

Daily Newspaper Advertising is as another brain to the sales force of these men. It is the one medium from which they get quick and accurate returns; and are so able to repeat their advertisements as often as conditions warrant, and the treasury justifies.

This is particularly true at this time of the year when the season, the weather, the change of fashion, the state of public mind and attitude of competitors, all combine to affect daily sales.

The born advertiser is not necessarily the large space advertiser nor does he have to have more than one thing to advertise.

If he is quick to seize every incident in his daily life and capitalize it in his next day's advertising—the public will soon pay him that tribute of admiration expressed in the words "A born advertiser."

FATAL FRACAS ON CANADIAN TRAPPER

London, Sept. 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—During a fight on Saturday night aboard the Canadian steamer Canadian Trapper at Glasgow docks, it is alleged a colored man slashed with a razor a Canadian named Wilson, who was removed to the hospital, where he died. Four men were seriously wounded. The fight started among cattlemen who were promised refreshments, and Wilson complained of being overlooked.

HUNTER STARTED BAD BUT FINISHED WELL

British Champion Takes 77 to Complete First 18 Holes; Armour's Score Was 80

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19.—Willie Hunter, British champion, and Harrison Johnston, Minnesota champion, the first pair to finish the first round of the 36-hole qualifying round in the national amateur golf championship, scored 77 and 75, respectively.

The Briton started rather poorly but he pulled himself together soon after.

Johnston found his drive to-day and was rods ahead of Hunter on almost every hole.

More rain this morning made the course almost heavy, but a hot sun began to reduce the soft terrain before the afternoon round.

T. D. Armour of Scotland, was not so good as his compeer, taking a pair of forties, while his partner, Rudolph Wilhelm, of Portland, took 41-42-52.

Chandler Egan, of Portland, playing with Jones, did not start profitably, taking five on the first by virtue of a pulled approach and four on the short second because of a sliced drive. He was perfect with both wood and iron on the next two, outplaying Jones by four shots on the two holes. He also outdrove the Southern lead on the fifth.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 19.—Francis Ouimet, of Boston, to-day led the sixty-four golfers competing in the first 18 holes of the qualifying round of the national amateur championship at the St. Louis Country Club, by setting a new record for the course of 69. The conqueror of Vardon and Ray in 1913, to-day went out in par, 35, and came in two strokes better than perfect figures.

Arthur Hemingway, of Boston, was second, taking 71, and came in two strokes better than perfect figures.

Present entries—Fresh Jersey, with calf at foot; Jersey, milking, bred March 8; Yearling Jersey Heifer, Magnet Separator, Poultry of all kinds and other goods, etc.

HEATINESS PREVAILS IN STOCK MARKET

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)

New York, Sept. 19.—Stocks in general met with feverishness immediately after the opening and liquidation by large pool operators was in evidence right up to the last. The market was characterized by the day. U. S. Steel during the early part of the session was the feature, advancing up to 84, the buying being induced by newspaper reports that a fair sized improvement had taken place in the steel trade. However, the gains could not be maintained as the balance of the day was spent in liquidation. U. S. Steel closed at 84, Baldwin at 54, and the market generally was downwardly inclined. The closing of the day was a half point, closing at 54. The market generally was downwardly inclined, the closing of the day was a half point, closing at 54.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—The market opened up a cent in wheat to-day, but on further selling orders during the morning some slight reverses were met with. However, late in the afternoon some of the largest houses with Eastern connections were free buyers, and in consequence prices advanced, final quotations being best prices for the day. Little news of importance was received.

MONEY SPENT IN ADVERTISING PAYS

J. C. Pendray, Head of Development Association, Writes From Prairies

The value of expenditure of money in order to advertise Victoria and Vancouver Island as an attraction to the people of the prairies has been emphasized by J. C. Pendray, president of the Victoria and Island Development Association in a letter to J. G. Thomson, publicity commissioner, just received.

Mr. Pendray is at present on a business trip through the western provinces en route to Montreal, and has taken advantage of the opportunity to investigate tourist possibilities. "Conditions around northern Alberta look very good," Mr. Pendray reports. "Southern Alberta has been subjected to more or less of a crop failure. Around Regina and northern Saskatchewan conditions are good. There is a feeling of optimism prevailing throughout this section.

Mr. Pendray thinks that the Development Association should concentrate its efforts in this part of Canada for the securing of its tourists for this winter, and he believes that a campaign even more extensive than last year should be undertaken. "The business is there and it is the duty of Victoria to secure it," says Mr. Pendray.

Victoria is very well known in the country Mr. Pendray has traversed, and he points out that it was only a few years ago that people on the prairies knew only of Vancouver, and nothing whatever of Victoria.

It is hoped the business men of Victoria and of the Island will take every means of supporting the efforts of the Victoria and Island Development Association in assuring this tourist trade coming here this winter.

Mr. Pendray, following the knowledge he has secured from personal touch with prairie people, is strongly in favor of attracting the attention of the tourists when they visit Victoria to the great opportunities afforded them by small acreage holdings for small farms, chicken ranching and other vocations, and the association advertising will feature this.

LEVER BROTHERS LIMITED, TORONTO

MISS ELLIOTT NOW ASSOCIATED WITH VANCOUVER

Was Formerly Deaconess at Metropolitan Church Here

Miss Eva B. Elliott, the newly appointed deaconess of Wesley Church, Vancouver, arrived last week to commence her duties. She is an experienced deaconess, who has met with great success in her work. Her first appointment was at Colborne Street Church, Toronto, and in 1907 she became the deaconess of the leading Methodist Church at Fort William. After serving there for three years she was appointed to the Metropolitan Church, Victoria, where she labored for four years, with a unanimous invitation to return for the fifth year.

The Fort William Church was, however, insistent that she was appointed again to that church, and was the deaconess there for four years. Then Miss Elliott was called to Colborne Street Church, St. John's Newfoundland, but an attack of sickness compelled her to relinquish her work, and she came forthwith to Vancouver at her home town, Mount Pleasant, Ontario.

Miss Elliott's sympathies go out very strongly to young girls who do not have the best chance in life, and who need guidance and friendship. She is a capable leader, and has proved helpful in mission circles and band work.

Miss Elliott will immediately enter upon her work in connection with Wesley Methodist Church. There are now three deaconesses of the Methodist Church at work in the city, Miss Elliott, Miss Hatcher at Mount Pleasant Church, and Miss Bagiole, who will enter upon her duties in connection with the Turner Institute next week. Miss Garbutt, the present deaconess at Metropolitan Church, Victoria, makes the fourth worker under the direction of the Deaconess Board in British Columbia.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Rambler-Cariboo.

Under a lease which has just been executed by the Rambler-Cariboo Mines, Ltd., the Rambler-Cariboo property in the McLaughlin basin, has been taken over by Manager W. A. Cameron and associates until the end of 1922, says The Nelson News.

A force of eight or ten men is now engaged in development work, and Mr. Cameron expects to start the concentrator in a few days.

The leasees hope to open up some ore in new ground, that is to say, in the Jenny and Last Chance, which were acquired last year, and into which the stripping was extended.

Since the deal went into effect, a new agreement between the Trail smelter and the silver-lead operators has been shadowed, which promises materially to aid the new operators of this famous old producing mine.

McAllister Mine.

Lost for seven or eight months the ore shoot of the north drift of the McAllister mine—or an equivalent—has been picked up. On Saturday 100 feet past the fault which was encountered last winter, Manager R. A. Grimes stated at the Hume Hotel, before leaving for Ketchikan, that a series of shots showed four feet of very good ore on the hanging wall.

When the fault was reached last winter, the drift had passed through a crushed zone, work on that face was discontinued. After the snow was off in the spring, Mr. Grimes stripped the drift to the surface till he found a corresponding fault, and prospected the fault till he found the lost lead. Then he resumed driving in the north drift with the knowledge thus gained, and he has picked up the lead and shot just about where he expected them.

The driving was suspended about a month because of excessive water.

The entrance to the mine is between two knolls, the tunnel eventually crossing the vein, on which north and south drifts have been carried, into the two knolls. In the north there is 700 feet of depth, and in the south 400 feet, at the present faces. In the vicinity of the crosscut considerable ore is blocked out. Two raises are being made, and other development work is also being done—Nelson News.

Nickel in Gabbro Claims.

Assays have been made of pyrrhotite ore from the Gabbro-Copper Mines, Ltd., which adjoin the Sunloch property at Jordan River, and the results show that the samples ran ten pounds and 11.5 pounds to the ton. Dr. Victor Dolmage, of the Geological Survey, who studied the geology of the Jordan River camp in 1919, says, when acknowledging a sample sent to him:

"I was glad to receive your interesting letter and sample of pyrrhotite which were forwarded to me from Ottawa. It was quite a discovery to get 5 per cent nickel in that pyrrhotite and one that interests me greatly. I shall have your specimen examined chemically and I shall also have a microscopic search in it myself for pentlandite, the nickel mineral of the Sudbury ores."

NURSES ALUMNAE MEET TO AID FURNISHING FUND

At a meeting of the Jubilee Nurses' Alumnae Association plans for the swelling of their funds were discussed in order to proceed with the furnishing of the Women's Ward of the hospital which they have undertaken as their special care. The plans included the holding of a rummage sale on Wednesday, October 5, at the York Hotel, and a fund-raising appointed convener, other members of the committee are Mrs. J. M. Healey, Mrs. Bullock-Webster. Any donations of clothing or other articles suitable for the sale may be sent to them.

During the short period of its existence, the Alumnae Association has donated eight curtained beds for the Women's Ward, but with a further sixteen being required, the organization feels the need of doing very energetic work this winter.

In order to bring the members together in a purely friendly way, the working and business meetings are to be interspersed with social evenings, the first of these will be held on

LOCAL HEAD V.O.N. GOES TO TORONTO

Miss McNair Leaving After Five Years' Splendid Work; Other Changes

Miss McNair who has been in charge of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses for the past five years left to-day for Toronto where she will take a year's course in public health nursing. Her successor has not yet been appointed but it is probable that Mrs. Hanington will send out a supervisor from the East to fill the vacancy.

During the five years of Miss McNair's regime, the work of the local branch has grown apace. It was largely owing to her efforts that the present commodious headquarters in Rockland Avenue were acquired and fitted up as a clinic and home for the nurses, while the increase in the work of the branch has necessitated the services of an additional nurse, and a splendid four-wheel motor car to enable the nurses to cover their wide territory expeditiously.

Other Changes.

Miss McNair's departure synchronizes with other changes in the V. O. N. in British Columbia. Miss Ethel Brown, District Superintendent, resigned at the recent meeting of the Board of Directors of the Vancouver Branch to return to England.

MISS McNAIR

Miss Brown came from England some time ago to study public health work, and has done splendid work with the V. O. N. during her stay in Vancouver. Her successor will be Miss Bausch, a Canadian woman, who has held important positions in the United States and in Canada. For some time she has been in Winnipeg doing industrial nursing and public health organization work on behalf of the province of Manitoba.

Miss Brown gave an excellent report, in which she stated: "In July 1, 1920 visits had been made; there were 186 new cases, and the operating loss was $1,323.32. In August visits paid were 1,644, new cases 166, and operating loss $1,274.75."

Miss Mary Carter, assistant superintendent, is going to Saanich to take charge of the new health centre, replacing Miss Bausch, who is taking a course at the University of British Columbia. Mrs. E. P. Calhoun will replace Miss Carter.

VICTORIA SCOUTS HELD TRACK EVENTS

Over 400 Took Part in Inter-Troop Field Meet Held at Oak Bay on Saturday

Fair weather graced the annual field events of the Victoria Boy Scouts, who on Saturday last staged at the Oak Bay grounds one of the most successful field events of the season. Over four hundred boys took part, in contests that ranged from track races to trek cart chariot races. Keen competition characterized all events.

St. Aidan's Troop was successful in attaining the highest aggregate number of points, with 28 to their credit. College followed next with 25; Fairfield, 25; James Bay, 21; St. Mary's, 10; Third Troop, 8; First Presbyterian, 3; Cobble Hill, 2; Hillside and St. Michael's, 1. Third troop captured the feature event of the day, the trek cart race, after a most exciting course, keenly competed.

William Davies officiated as starter in an acceptable manner. Messrs. K. C. Symons, A. R. Sherwood, and W. H. Means acted as judges. The prizes won are to be awarded at some near date in the future. On Saturday next the Scouts are to hold a water gala at the Gorge, when an interesting programme is to be staged. A large number of parents were interested witnesses of the field events on Saturday, taking a delight in the keenness displayed by the troops.

The proceedings closed with a supper for Scout officers, held at the Pall Mall Tea Rooms, Port Street, when twenty-one lessons sat down to a merry repast. An excellent toast list with several fine addresses was given. Scoutmaster C. J. Cherry presided.

HAD HER RATTLED.

"You seem very nervous, this evening, Ethel."

"I should say I am. Jack proposed last night."

"And did you accept him?"

"That's what I'm nervous about. You see I was so awfully excited I don't know whether I did or not. If he comes to-night, I did, and if he doesn't I didn't."

TORTURING HER HUSBAND.

Husband (to wife)—Where is my hat?

Wife—On the mantle, dear.

Husband—What! On the Mantle? I wonder what ridiculous thing I shall find it on next?

Wife (sweetly)—On your head, dear.—Edinburgh Scotsman.

YELLOW PRESS CANNOT START A WAR, HE SAYS

Sir Charles Hibbert, Tupper, K.C., and Judge Freeman Speak Here

No yellow press could start war between Canada and the United States, and the resort to arbitration on the question of any differences that might arise between the two countries had worked out too satisfactorily in the past to permit of any departure from the practice in the future, Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, K.C., told an appreciative audience at the Empress Hotel ballroom Saturday night, when the noted Canadian orator in company with Judge Freeman, a former judicial appointee in the United States, but for many years a resident of Victoria, gave addresses under the auspices of the Victoria branch of the British-American League.

Sir Charles dealt with a number of phases of the wonderful international relationship that existed between the two countries, and said that the spirit of amity maintained for over one hundred years was something that it would be pretty hard to upset, other nations at times evincing a desire to see the bond of friendship broken in order that their own interests might be advanced.

There were some people who would precipitate war on peaceful nations through personal hatred or for other reasons, said Sir Charles, but it was such organizations as the British-American League that would quickly put a stop to such propaganda, said the speaker.

Common Ideals.

Judge Freeman objected to the reference usually made as to "two" great peoples. He thought that the Anglo-Saxon race was good enough, and had displayed friendship enough within the borders of the British Empire and the United States to qualify for the title of "one race."

The speaker referred to the common ideals, the common habits, the similarity of the various institutions maintained throughout the Empire and the United States, and, personally, he could see no difference when he roamed the streets of a British or an American city. "We should not consider ourselves neighbors or as friends, but as one great people," he declared.

The speaker said that civilization had its conception in the Anglo-Saxon race and the supremacy of the race would be maintained through a continuance of the common-sense attitude of the nations through the activity and watchfulness of the real members of that race.

There are some people who shout that animosity exists between us, but investigation will show that they are not our own people, and when this sort of thing happens we should put it at once and order those people out.

The Chairman.

Major Wendell B. Shaw, president of the League, acted as chairman, and in a few remarks explained the aims and purposes of the League, in the schools, in the business institutions and in the streets of Canada and the United States the lesson of amity and goodwill between the Anglo-Saxon peoples should be taught," said Major Shaw. A. C. Flumerfelt, George Bell, R. B. Mosher, American consul, C. T. Cross, Harry Charlesworth and Captain Hearn, representing the British Empire League, one of whose objects it is also to promote Anglo-American friendship, and numerous others were present on the platform.

The National Anthems of both countries were sung.
